DIRECTORS

The Teacher And The Miracle worker, Sherry Simantel meet in the hall to discuss matters dealing with a particular club's account.

School does not stop in June for Mr. Charles Kurtz as he must be A Man For All Seasons to do his job thoroughly.

Discussing matters over with June Zeigler, Mr. Delmer Botkin's job is to deal with broken rules, so to some he is named The Lawman.

Checking the absentee list, June Zeigler, known as The Collector, is in charge of making sure the list is complete.

It's Showtime as Delmer Botkin gets ready to read the morning announcements to enlighten students of the day's cancellations.

Discussing matters down to The Last Detail Assistant-Principal Alphonzo Hamilton can be found in his office ready to talk to faculty.

Having to always be on her toes with finances Sherry Simantel is constantly being faced with the danger of getting into The Money Trap.

Being loaded with responsibility, Thelma Brown can always be found behind her desk with some type of Big Business.

Office Staff Helps School Run Smoothly

This year's office staff consisted of six people whose work never ended. The secretaries, Thelma Brown, Sherry Simantel, and June Zeigler, answered the phone's unending call, typed, and paged teachers as well as students for others. Assistant principals, Alphonzo Hamilton and Delmer Botkin had their hands full again this year with the job of disciplining the rowdy students attending Lee. Heading this small but powerful group was Charles Kurtz, a veteran at his job.

Even Mrs. Wright and Mrs. Thomas slip up occasionally, as they are caught chatting in what should be The Silent World.

With Time To Kill till the 3 o'clock bell, Mrs. Fountaine strolls the halls on her way back to the Media Center.

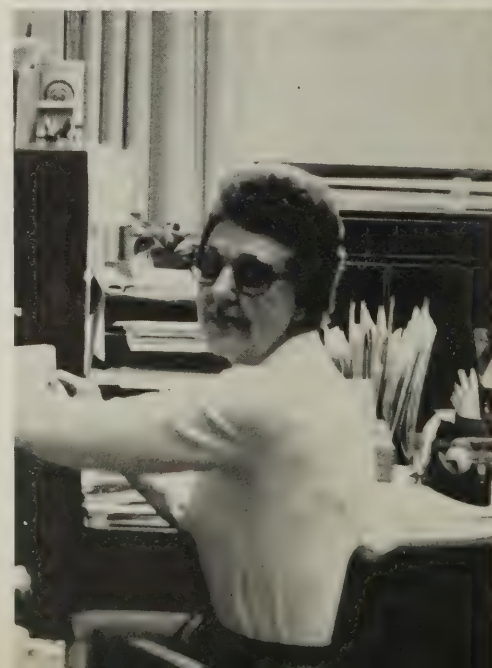

Besides being the director of the Media center, Mrs. Nell Wright occupied her time as chairman of the Steering Com. for Lee's Evaluation in 1980. Both Mrs. Wright and Mrs. Elnora Fountaine have been in this school system for eleven years. Mrs. Katherine Brooks spent her extra time reading and traveling. Keeping matters and information straight in the guidance office was accomplished by Opal Homan and Mary Lou Parkins. Mrs. Homan was a graduate of Brant's School of Business and has been in this school for fifteen years. Mrs. Parkins, a graduate of Mary Baldwin spent her past summer at her family camp in Goshen and on a trip to Maryland. Senior advisor, Ernest Holley toured Belgium, Germany, France and Switzerland last summer with his family. Mrs. Kidd was always around to offer Juniors a helping hand with decisions for college and their future. Mr. John Mozian, Soph. counselor, graduated from Colorado State University and enjoys fishing as well as carpentry.

On a Quest for information needed by a student, Mrs. Brooks takes time as usual scanning material to help out.

Puzzled students seeking The Cure to a problem, from the guidance office, can always expect to be greeted by a cheerful smile from Mrs. Homan.

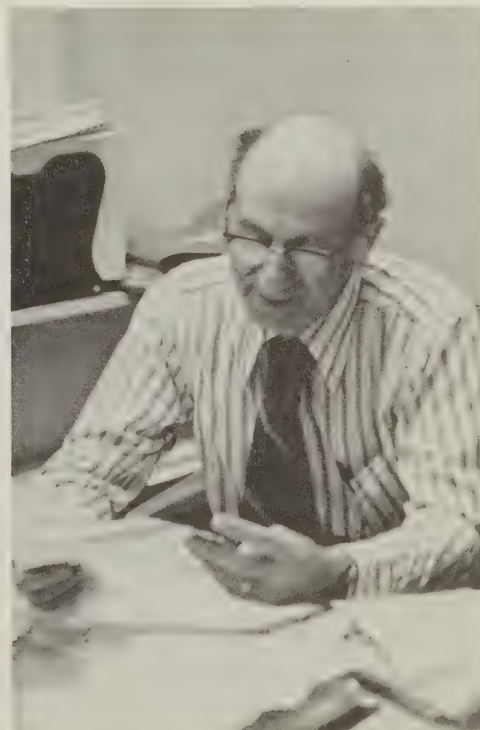

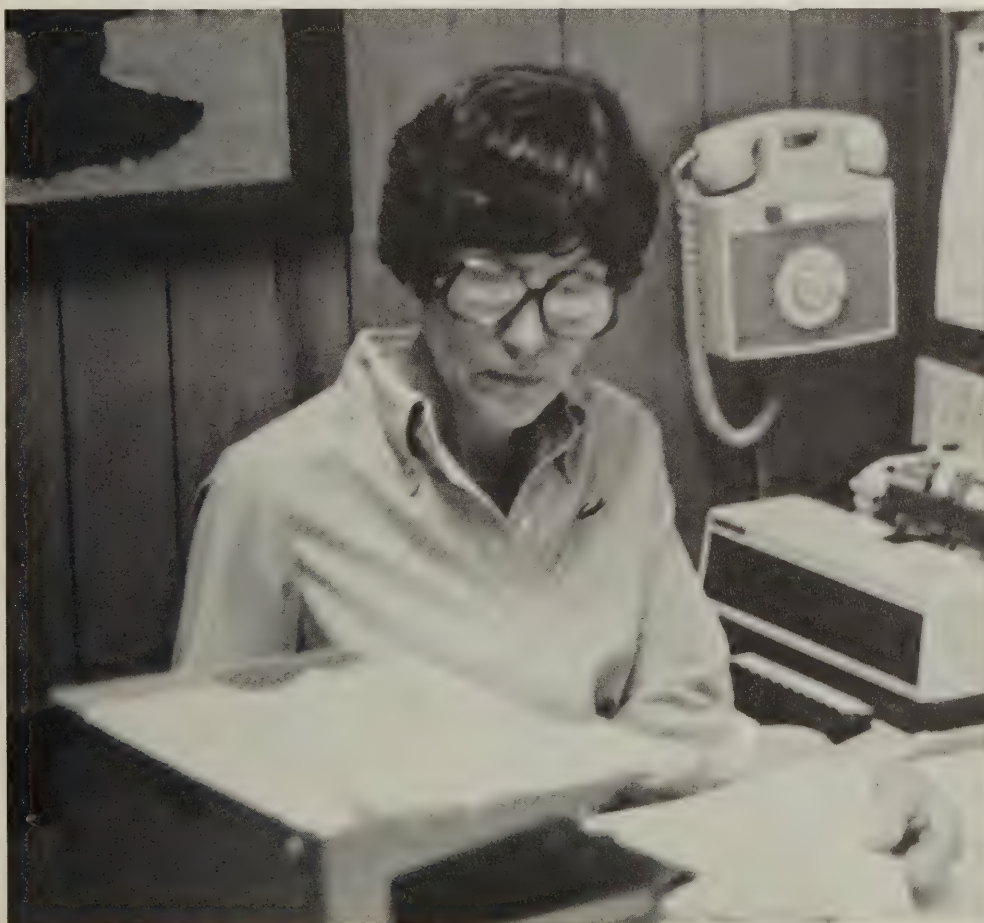

Guidance and Librarians Provide Services for Lee

Advise and Consent — This is what Mr. Holly does best day after day when faced with decision-making for the seniors.

Mrs. Kidd is surely Someone to Remember as each student knows she will always work with and work for them through guidance.

Mrs. Parkins helps hold together the vast number of files and records collected each year in guidance. "I'll Never Forget What's His Name."

Sophomores new to the life at Lee were greeted in August and guided through the year by A Man Named John.

Music in my Heart — Suzanne Link can be seen concentrating on her music during one of her band classes.

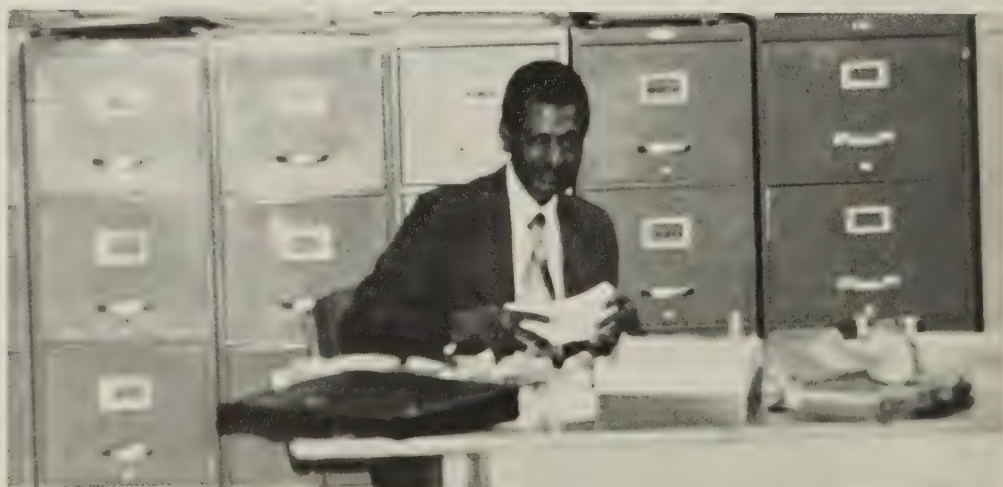

Looking up from her work Pam Tinsley is about to reply to a student as where to put The Illustrated Man when the shutter clicks.

Sitting at his desk Don Roberts, known to some of his students as The Hard Man, grades the last set of papers for that day.

As Pam Elliot sits in the teacher's workroom ready to Dial A Deadly Number, she stops to think if this is necessary.

Looking over the absentee list, Boisa Taylor gets ready to make his checkup call on The Next Victim to see if he is telling the truth.

Writing down a disruptive student's name, Dorothy Wood comments to him, "I'll Be Seeing You at the end of school."

Resting after a long day's work, Gary Gazenski thinks back to this summer when he had to take Night Watch as a bartender.

Taking roll during his photography class Mark White smiles as a student says to him that he is The Last of the Good Guys.

As Bob Sanger taps his baton on the music stand he says, "Now Play Misty For Me right this time please."

Art Dept. Enrolls In Various Activities

The Lee High Art Department spent a widely varied summer. Sports-minded Mrs. Pam Elliot and Mr. Bob Sanger spent much of their summer on the courts playing tennis while Mr. Sanger also took a Projects Course at JMU. Mr. Don Roberts took time after acting as Cross Country coach to indulge in his favorite pastime — farming. JV Baseball Coach Gary Gazenski spent his free time at the Holiday Inn as the bartender as well as finding time to play rugby. The Outdoor Club Advisor Mark White went camping, rock climbing, and was a YCC Crew Leader for the U.S. Forest service this summer. Art Club Advisor Pamela Timsley taught at the Washington and Lee Fine Arts Workshop and painted in her extra time. Mrs. Dorothy Wood, sponsor of the FHA, made eggshell jewelry while Suzanne Link showed three-gaited and five-gaited horses plus working with the drill team and rifle squad. Mr. Boisa Taylor traveled to Ohio and West Virginia and in his extra time, fished and played the piano.

Knowing You Can't Run Away From It Mrs. Carolyn Kinzie smiles at one of her French pupil's questions on tense.

Language Dept. acquires a new teacher of Español

Many of the language and business teachers spent quiet, restful summers at home this year. Looking at the business department, J. Phoenix Williams spent his free time gardening and was interested in roses especially. Karen Fitzgerald, the Sophomore Class sponsor, was awarded a certificate from the Boy Scout's of America for two years of service. She spent the summer camping in the state of Pennsylvania. The sponsor of the FBLA, Sue Wilson, relaxed while she sewed new clothes or fished. Sue Morley took time out from sponsoring the Senior Class to play bridge and she also attended a summer business education conference in Richmond at the Hotel John Marshall. On the language side, Betty Pullin traveled to the Smokies during the summer and when not on the road, she worked in her garden. She also represented the Spanish Club as an advisor. A previous teacher at Southhampton High School, Ed Miska helped with the Pep Club. He used his time this summer helping with his family's antique business. The French Club Sponsor Karen Scott taught summer school and used her free time either reading or traveling. A graduate of Radford College, Carolyn Kinzie spent a quiet summer at home, possibly recovering from her hectic days teaching French.

The Paper Man Mr. Phenix Williams explains the correct procedure for inserting typing paper into a machine to his class.

Looking up in surprise Mrs. Sue Morley glances with astonishment at one of her classes' Freaky Friday antics.

One of Mrs. Scott's French quizzes puts the students into a Cold Sweat with her verbs, vocabulary, and conjugations.

Asking a student to express himself Once More With Feeling in Spanish Class Mr. Ed Miska leans meditatively on his podium.

Grinning at her Spanish class Mrs. Betty Pullin knows her Perfect Day in class may come, but it hasn't yet.

It Should Happen To You — Mrs. Sue Wilson's face registers disbelief as the students chuckle when she drops a stack of paper.

My Favorite Brunette Mrs. Karen Fitzgerald smiles at a typing student's new and original typing style with wonder.

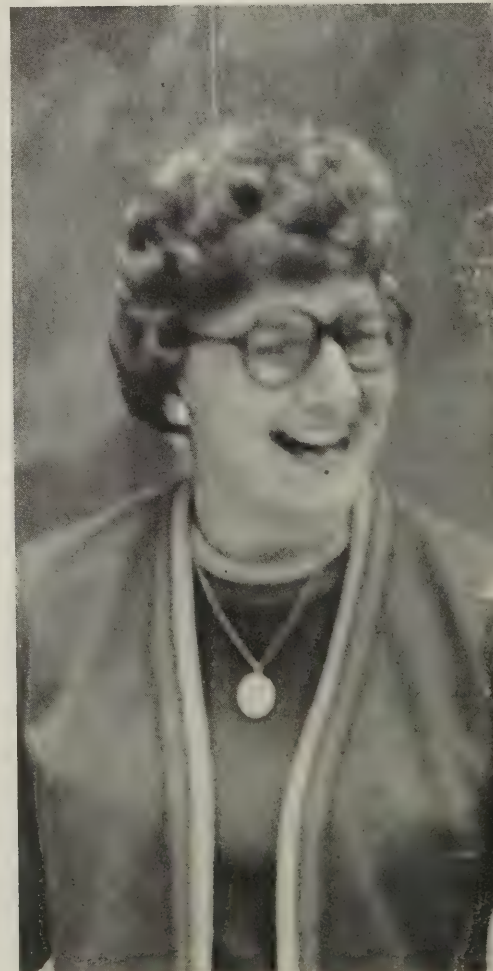

Ms. B. Macomber Serves As Annual Advisor

In our English Department at Lee the teachers had a variety of interests from singing to weight-lifting. Miss Beatrice Morris, co-sponsor of the Jr. Class, spent much of her time working in Delta Kappa Gamma and singing in the church choir. Mrs. Claudette Obenschain helped with the school newspaper while our annual staff advisor Mrs. Bobbi Macomber was working on her Master's degree in reading at JMU. She spent her free time writing, reading, and lifting weights. Mrs. Virginia Martin opened a sewing shop this past summer and sewing was one of her favorite pastimes. She also enjoyed boating and reading. Connie G. Harris acted as advisor to the literary magazine Peacock Ice and acted as corresponding secretary for the Staunton Business and Professional Women's Association. During her free time she was interested mainly in photography and spent the summer in Boston, Mass.

Pointing at the collage the Teacher's Pet Danny Spotts tries to get Bobbi Macomber's attention and make her smile.

Laughing as The Comedians of her class interrupt the lecture, Claudette Obenschain gives into the fun of the moment.

You Light Up My Life — apparently Bea Morris' classes do light up her life as she breaks into a wide smile.

Refreshing her mind by reading through her Macbeth, Connie Harris grins at the porter's amusing antics at the gate.

While Virginia Martin would rather be The Barefoot Contessa she settles with some wild, wild socks.

Each pronoun should agree with their antecedent.

Just between you and I, case is important.

A preposition is a poor word to end a sentence with.

Verbs has to agree with their subjects.

Don't use no double negatives.

A writer mustn't shift your point of view.

When dangling, don't use participles.

Join clauses good, like a conjunction should.

Don't write a run-on sentence because it is difficult when you got to punctuate it so it makes sense when the reader reads what you wrote.

About sentence fragments.

Mrs. Daniels Escorts 17 Students Overseas

Our English Department at Lee was involved in great variety of different pastimes including traveling and sewing. The Department head Mrs. Jean Daniels accompanied several students on a tour of England this past Easter and she is also interested in antiques. SCA advisor Mrs.

Terry Boyle spent her summer camping and sewing while holding the position of Sergeant-at-Arms in Alpha Delta Kappa. The Corresponding Secretary of Delta Kappa Gamma, Mrs. Martha Hamrick spent her extra time reading or gardening as well as acting as sponsor of the National Honor Society. Mrs. Sharyn Billings used her time attending summer school at JMU and acted as the Valley District Forensics Meet Director. Mr. Wayne Grant, a graduate of JMU spent the summer quietly at home.

Face To Face – a pupil and teacher Wayne Grant discuss a reading assignment that was due, unfortunately, today.

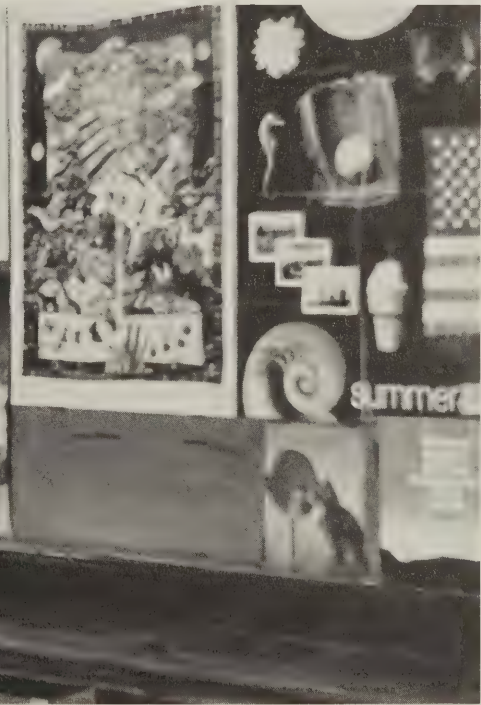

After a hard day of work at school Sharyn Billings looks up as if to say Help! and wishes for the weekend.

Concentrating on the essays on BEOWULF Jean Daniels tries to decide the Turning Point on a borderline paper.

Resembling a Blackboard Jungle this collage of posters serves to break the monotony of an English room wall.

Although a term paper may seem to be as hard as a Payment In Blood, after turning it in, the teacher's job is just as bad as witnessed by Terry Boyle.

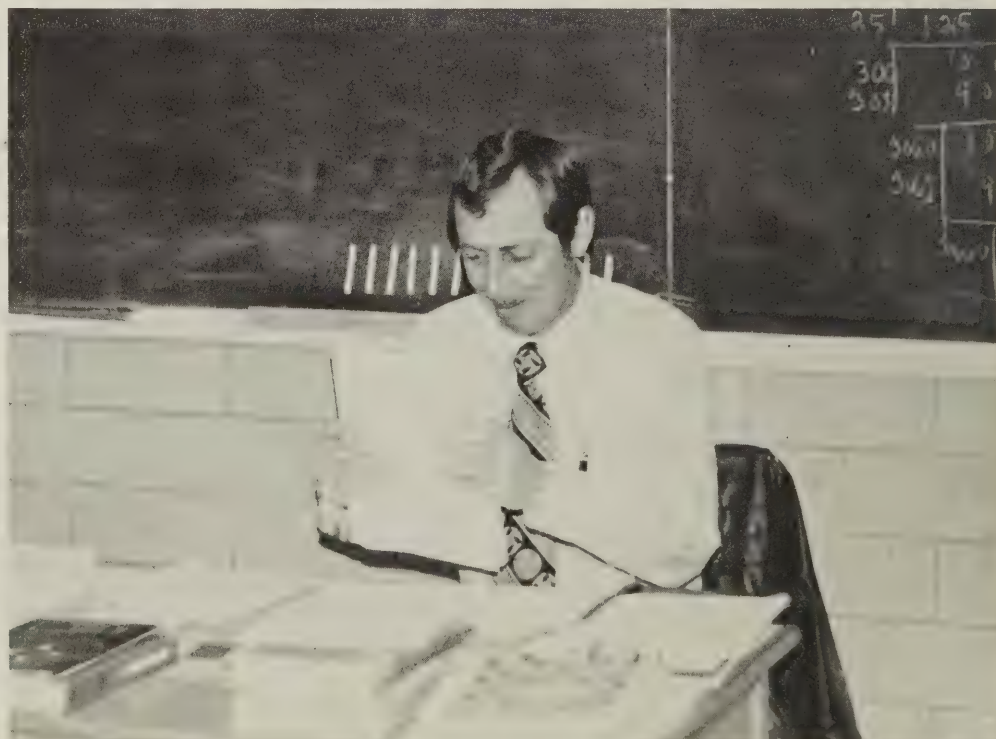

Math Teachers Explore Many Extra Activities

Mathematics teachers drilled theories and formulas into the minds of students. Eleven year Lee High staff member James Christy taught Geometry and Algebra and also enjoyed visiting the famed West Coast during the summer vacation. Protracted Algebra teacher Jay Higgs used his excellent mathematical abilities by acting as Business Manager for the Leeway, handling all the money matters. William Roberson, a proud new father, helped students understand the complexities of Analysis and Calculus and advised the AFS Club in the selling of candy and the sponsorship of A Wedding. Linda Hickey coached the Lee High Forensics team and acted as Jr. Class Advisor when not busy teaching Geometry and Consumer Math.

Even though Jay Higgs realizes that teaching isn't always a Picnic, he seems to be enjoying himself as he tidies his desk between classes.

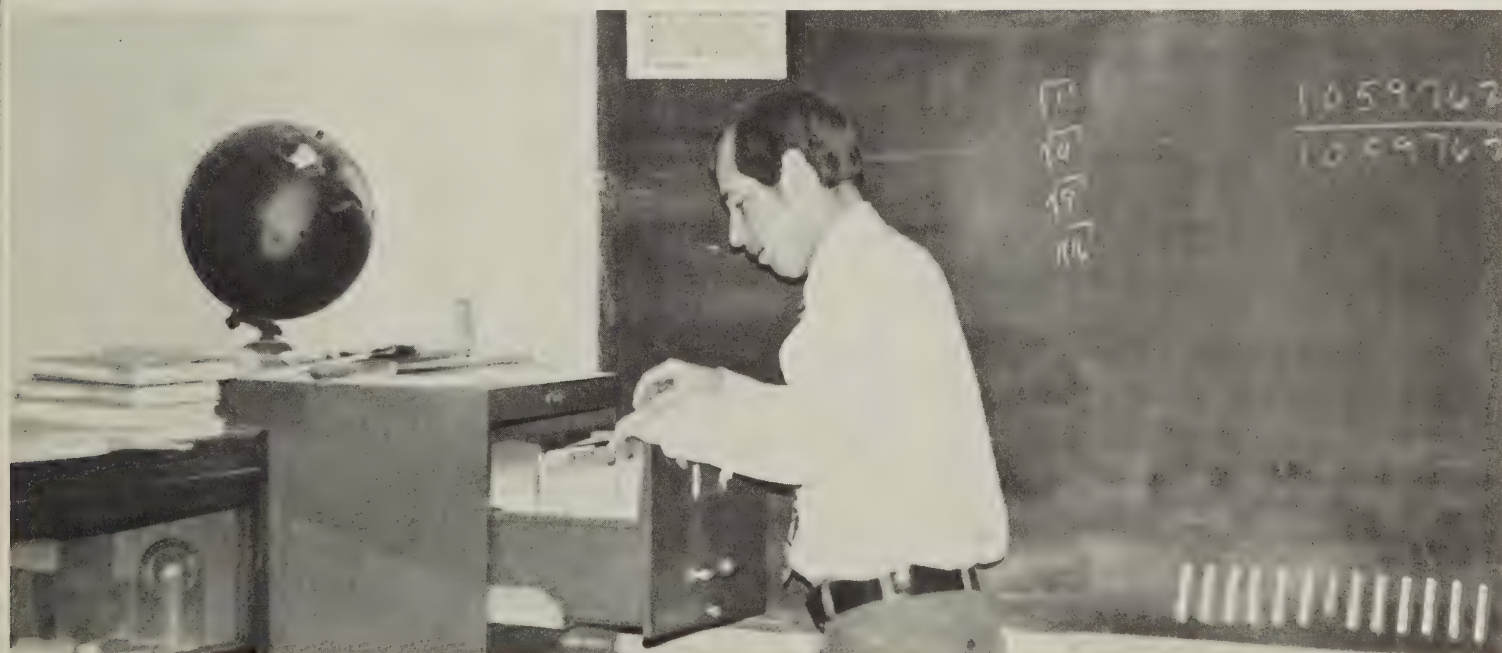

As Linda Hickey grades a student's paper, she puzzles over Question 7 and tries to decipher the pupil's writing.

The photographer catches James Christy, Terminal Man, with a look of bewilderment as he snaps the picture.

With a bemused look on his face, James Christy tells a student, "You're A Big Boy Now, and you can do the problem."

During a infrequent minute of free time, Billy Roberson flips through a magazine, possibly reading about The China Syndrome.

The Absent-Minded Professor, Jay Higgs searches through his files for some unforgotten set of Algebra tests.

An amusing comment made during Health class brings a sliver of Sunshine into another dreary Monday morning for Sharon Metcalfe.

Roby Honored As "Coach of the Year"

The Physical Education Dept. was staffed by an excellent crew this year. In his eleventh year of teaching, Coach Joe Cochran led the J.V. basketball team and boys' track. Sharon Metcalfe sponsored the FCA, coached girls' volleyball, and enjoyed photography and music in her spare time. Warren Tetley, coach for Varsity baseball and John Lewis basketball, spent an interesting summer in California. Toni Roby head of girls' varsity basketball and softball was awarded as "Coach of the Year". Driver Ed. teacher, Paul Hatcher, coached the boys' varsity basketball team leading them to Regionals.

Coach Joe Cochran occasionally wonders why he ever puts up with high school students, but decides after all, it's Making a Living.

Alone in his office, averaging grades, a sudden Crash of Silence is just what Warren Tetley needs to balance out his day.

The three mischievous grins of Mike Madden, P.E. coach Toni Roby, and Tony Scott displayed for the camera could mean Triple Trouble.

After a long day, student teacher Jim Woodson erases all thoughts from his mind except that of Going Home.

It will be detention hall for these two sophomores Today and Tomorrow if Coach Metcalfe catches them playing cards during P.E. class.

Coach Hatcher not only instructs Drivers' training but also gives advice on how to effectively say, "Dad, Can I Borrow the Car".

Science Teachers Participate In Other Roles While At Lee

Science intrigued the interests of many students and they learned much from their teachers while taking Biology, Chemistry, or Physics. SEA Secretary Marietta Beverage demonstrated dissecting techniques in Biology while Angelo Cacciapaglia, UVA and JMU graduate, tickled his students with his crazy antics. Stephanie Dunlop taught Chemistry I and II during her first year at Robert E. Lee and chaperoned the Science Club while Senior Class Co-Sponsor Wanda Poe taught fundamentals of Biology and Gene Blackmer played his guitar for his Physics students, showing that a Science genius can be multi-talented also.

Angelo Cacciapaglia, The Good-Humor Man, looks up from taking roll to give one of his helpful comments to the class.

While she may not find Pink Plasma, Marietta Beverage does find some different species in her Biology classes.

A Tree In A Test Tube is one of the stranger sights Wanda Poe might find while teaching in her Biology classes.

Looking at an errant student for Conduct Unbecoming, Stephanie Dunlop pauses from teaching Chemistry.

Doing part-time as The Music Man, Eugene Blackmer shows his Physics and Trig classes his musical talents.

Palmer Takes Students to Mock Gen. Assem.

The Social Science Dept. was made up this year of eight excellent teachers. Four of these were Ned Bonfoey, Jim Diggs, Sarah Palmer, and Don Hamilton. Graduated from Lynchburg College, Mr. Bonfoey taught American History during the past year and kept the sophomores in line as their advisor. Sarah Palmer, a government teacher, received her degree from Radford College. Don Hamilton always managed to keep the attention of his students by sharing stories of his previous teaching experience at the correctional center. Mr. Diggs taught another generation of students World and American History.

History teacher, Don Hamilton, apparently caught up in The Paper Chase, looks up from his work slightly frustrated.

As Ned Bonfoey steals a moment from his hectic day, calling the superintendent and reaching "Mama's Pizza" tops his day. Sorry, wrong number.

Any Second Now the 3 P.M. bell will ring to release the students and teachers, as Mr. Diggs thinks of plans for the week-end.

Mr. Diggs just can't understand the inattentiveness of his students during the Spring weather, but realizes it's Because They're Young.

Diary of a Teacher. Another teaching day for Sarah Palmer includes the tedious paperwork, lecturing, and even some enjoyable times.

"And Now the Screaming Starts", imagines Mr. Hamilton, watching the expressions of his students as he assigns homework.

Has Robert Byrd and Mr. Bonfoey just come off the Wilderness Trail? No, the photographer has merely caught their new image.

Woman on the Run, Jo Meeks, divided her days between government classes and coaching the girls' track team.

Doug Carter Travels To Foreign Cities

For her eighth year at Lee, Marge Langfitt taught government and economics classes, as well as advising the I.C.C. Deke Summers had a full schedule of teaching American and World History, instructing drivers' training, and was the Varsity football coach. Senior class sponsor, Becky Harvill, taught Sociology and special English and enjoyed sewing and needlework in her spare time. Government teacher Jo Meeks spent an interesting summer painting and also cooking for a football camp. This year she coached girls' outdoor track and advised cheerleading. Doug Carter, World History teacher and assistant coach for football and boys' track, was envied by all as he traveled to Paris, Moscow, and Athens last summer.

Marge Langfitt stresses The Point to her students that one should not sign their tax reforms "Daffy Duck".

Work is a Four Letter Word — Deke Summers scans the latest world events to share with his history students.

The expression on Deke Summers' face sadly reflects the state of the nation that he finds on The Front.

Mr. Kurtz explains to Coach Doug Carter that only the first Two Weeks of September are the pits, and then it's all downhill.

Teaching can be a job filled with Days of Thrills and Laughter as Becky Harvill discovers in one of her more "amusing" classes.

Students are in for more Hard Times as Mrs. Langfitt prepares them for another test dealing with the judicial process.

DE, Services, Teach, Feed, & Clean Lee

The Distributive Education teachers included Harry Lunsford, Jenny Mann, and Marty Giesen. JMU and VPI graduate Harry Lunsford acted as the sponsor for DECA during his sixth year at Robert E. Lee. Jenny Bolt, formerly Jenny Mann before her April Wedding, filled her time by acting as secretary of Downtown Staunton Promotion Inc. while Marty Geisen worked closely with the students involved in the Distributive Education program. The Services Department for Lee High consisted of many people who cleaned and fed the school throughout the year. Patsy Clem collected the daily lunch money from students and teachers when not playing piano while Shirley Galloway, Catherine Houff, Phyllis Baker, and Helen Varnes enjoyed traveling and baking when not preparing the school meals. Food Service employees also included Roxie Puffenbarger, Kathleen Jarvis, and Dorothy Woodzell, while Nancy Heyden acted as the Cafeteria Manager.

After DE teacher Harry Lunsford hears the Two Minute Warning that class is about to begin, he quickly prepares material for his students.

As Marty Giesen meets a student in the halls, she gives her an exciting account of the movie she recently saw; Phantasm.

Distributive Education instructor Jenny Bolt looks dreamily into the camera as she, The Marrying Kind, thinks of her upcoming wedding.

A photographer catches Stella Walker in an Unguarded Moment before she goes through the doors to begin tidying the halls.

Before students come for lunch, Mark White is served not Animal Crackers, but a tasty school lunch by Food Service employee Dorothy Woodzell.

Although the cafeteria may not look much like Alice's Restaurant, Roxie Puffenbarger tries hard to keep the atmosphere warm and friendly for all those involved.

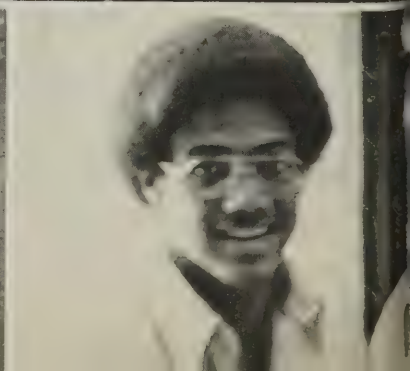

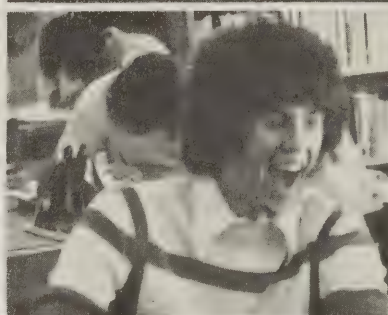

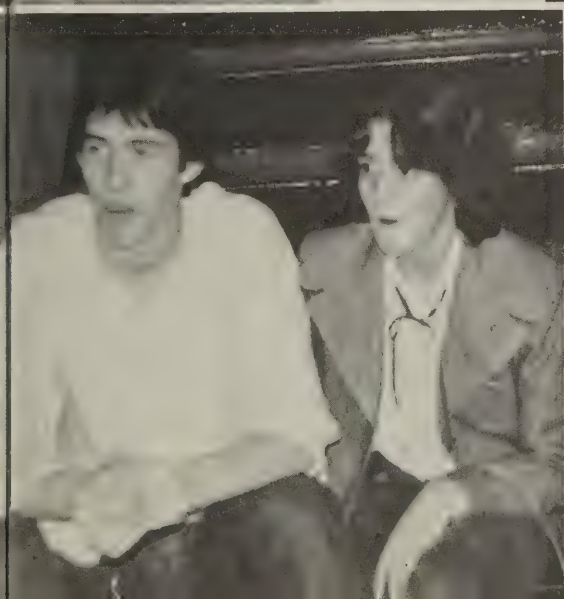

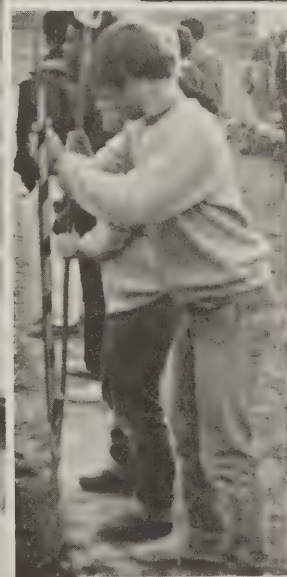

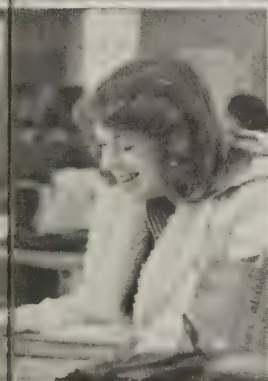

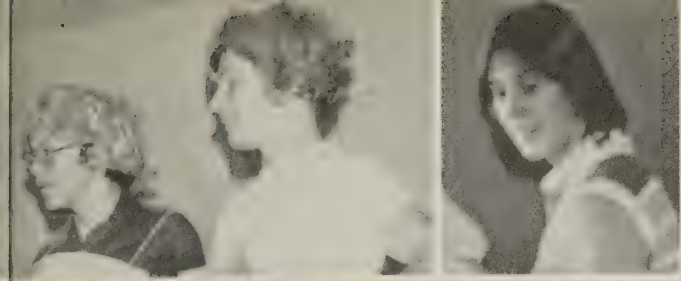

In order to clean the entire Lee High building, Robert Smith must Step Lively to get everything done in a short school day.

With her hands submerged in soapy water, Kathleen Jarvis takes time out to smile while Bells Are Ringing for students to return to class.

The afternoon sun shines down Paradise Alley accenting the gleam of lockers that were installed in summer, and the serenity of an empty hall.

STARS

Jan Andrews Accepts The DAR Award

Musical, athletic, and academic clubs attracted many seniors. Pam Agnor and Jan Andrews both sang in the Assembly Choir while Pam also sang in the Lee Lights and the Chorus along with Arleen Bell. Dawn Baker marched and played to the sound of Steve Altizer's drum in the Symphonic and Marching Band while Steve also set a jazz beat in the Stage Band. Jan Andrews headed an enthusiastic senior class as President, while the AFS Club joined the ideas of Steve Altizer and Lynne Barachie. Baseball players Keith Berry and David Biery hit homeruns while Steve Altizer hit hard, fast tennis balls on the varsity tennis team. Outdoor Club member Gary Arehart participated in campouts and hikes while June Armstrong and Mike Biby worked after school as a part of the popular DECA Club. Steve Altizer and Jan Andrews studied hard for induction in the NHS and Steve also helped to judge the honor code violators as a member of the Honor Council.

Jimmy Brent conducts as Drum Major

Seniors actively supported many major clubs, teams, and other various groups. Varsity cheerleader Jackie Bradley cheered on football player Mike Botkin and track runner Jimmy Brent while Tina Callison and Diane Buske headed the French Club as President and Vice-President respectively. Jackie Bradley, Tammy Brown, and

Diane Buske successfully promoted school spirit in the Pep Club. Budding young actress Dayle Blakemore displayed her acting abilities as a member of Thespians and the Drama Club while Tina Callison sang out for the Lee Lights. Karen Caldwell enriched her Spanish vocabulary in the Spanish Club while Jimmy Brent, acting as drum major and band President, led the band with majorette Dayle Blakemore during parades and halftime shows. DECA members Dewey and Sharon Bosserman learned new business skills while Tina Callison took part in the SCA and in the Honor Council. Diane Buske was a member of the ICC, NHS, and Leeway staff.

Lee High students greatly enjoyed many clubs and sports, and seniors were no exception during their last year at Lee High. Musical talents were displayed by Leslie Campbell, Rusty Campbell, and Karen Collins as they performed in the Symphonic and Marching Bands while Karen Collins acted as drum majorette. The AFS Club aimed at intercultural exchanges, attracted the interests of Eugene Carter, Lisa Compton, and Krystal Couch while Leslie Campbell and Kent Daniels enjoyed participating in the community projects and get-togethers of the FCA. Darla Davis twirled rifles during half time shows in the Color Guard and also supported the Pep Club and FHA. Karen Collins became a novice player on the new Girl's Volleyball team and also exhibited her numerous athletic abilities on the Track team. Outstanding students Rusty Campbell, Susan Clatterbaugh, and Karen Collins were inducted into the prestigious NHS while Krystal Couch took part in Drama and Thespians. Leslie Campbell and Patricia Clark represented the student body as fourth period and homeroom representatives respectively while Susan Clatterbaugh, Patricia Clark, and Judy Collier sang sweet songs for the Assembly Choir. Susan Clatterbaugh and Judy Collier attended ICC meetings while Judy also participated in FBLA functions with Lisa Cretsinger.

Dillon, English Serve On Honor Council

Lee seniors took advantage of the wide variety of clubs and extracurricular activities offered to students in '78-'79. Mary Dean penned reports for FHA while Kathy Duckworth, Dana English, and Larry Dice used pencils and paintbrushes in the Art Club. Gary Dodson played tunes on his trombone in the Symphonic, Marching, and Stage Bands as Kim DePriest sang for the Assembly Choir. Pep Club members Julia Folkes, Camnon Edwards, and Kelly Fitzgerald cheered our athletes throughout the year. Kathy Duckworth and Joy Fullen put their accents on Spanish Club activities and Susan Fisher widened her vocabulary in the French Club. Many Leemen were stricken with the competitive spirit and they displayed their talents on Lee's sport teams. Kelly Fitzgerald aimed his putter at the cup on the Golf team as fellow seniors Jeff Forinash and Elwood Fisher chased the pigskin out on the football field. Long distance and cross country specialist Fred Fitzgerald paced the Leemen runners in track and dribbler Sandy Durette scored for the Lee Ladies on the basketball court. The Honor Council helped troubled students with the aid of George Dillon and Dana English. Kathy Early and the other drill team members entertained the crowds at Friday's football games. The senior class had its share of good looks, too as cheerleader Julie Folkes and Todd Fowler were honored as Homecoming representatives.

Exchange Student Hails From Finland

Seniors actively supported many clubs which kept their school life very busy. Kathy Gibson and Warren Gilbert helped with the respective cross country team and the varsity basketball team as manager and statistician. SCA members Kathy Gibson, Chip Harvill, Bev Hays, and Cindy Hutchinson helped gain student body interest in the SCA while Chip Harvill, Mike Hanger, and Wanda Hicklin helped stir up sports excitement in the Pep Club. Chris Grover, Chip Harvill, Sandra Hatter, and Cindy Hutchinson competed academically for induction into the NHS and DECA members Anne Gutshall, Sandra Hatter,

Lisa Houff, Emmet Hunter, and Elizabeth Hutson attended local and state DECA competitions. Many new clubs gained the interests of students as Warren Gilbert played chess in the Chess Club, Chip Harvill and Cindy Hutchinson participated in the Science Club, Pekka Holopainen in the Guitar Club, and Mike Hanger acted as editor for the interesting Leeword newspaper. Pekka Holopainen, exchange student from Finland, participated in the AFS with Chris Grover and Mike Hanger. Musical seniors Jody Gilbert, Chris Grover, Cindy Hutchinson, and Sandra Hatter played in the Symphonic Band and went on an exchange trip to New Jersey with the Marching Band. Christy Groah took part in Music Masters' activities, sang in the Lee Lights, and also sang in the Chorus with Lloyd Harden. Homecoming escort Chip Harvill also shot for two on the Varsity Basketball team. Wanda Hicklin did secretarial work for the FBLA while the Spanish Club attracted the interests of Warren Gilbert, Tami Helmick, and Sandy Hershey. Chris Grover played on the Varsity tennis team while Tonya Hillman shot two for the Girl's Basketball team.

"You'll Like My Mother," thinks a confident John Manning about not one, but two, unsuspecting young ladies, Rhonda Mann and Emily Morrison.

J. Kelafont Excels In Cross Country

Music was a major activity of seniors. Lori Johnson, Cindy Jordan, and Mike Kirtz sang in the Chorus and Lee Lights while Mike Kirtz also sang in the Assembly Choir and took part in the newly formed Guitar Club. Lori Johnson acted as historian for Music Masters with member Mike Kirtz while Dan Knopp, Gary Lane, and Karen Losh played in the Stage Band. Symphonic and Marching Band members Dan Knopp, Gary Lane, Mabel Lewis, and Karen Losh helped raise funds for a spring trip along with Drill Team members Lori Johnson and Cindy Jordan. Scholars Cindy Jordan, Dan Knopp, and Kathy Koogler were members in the NHS while Jon Kelafont practiced hard for track. AFS attracted the interests of Jon Kelafont and Amy Kluge. David Kinkead demonstrated athletic abilities on the Varsity football and wrestling teams while DECA members Dennis King, Mike Kirtz, and Debbie Lamb worked after school. Cindy Jordan, and David Kinkead attended FCA activities and Ruth Lanum worked as a Library Assistance.

Martha Mace Acts As Pres. Of NHS

Seniors took part in many activities in 1978-79. Putting around on the golf team was Brian Martin, as Martha Mace, Mark Mays, and senior class vice-president, Chris McCauley, ran track. Varsity football players this year included Chris McCauley and Mark Mays, with Lee Miller playing Varsity Basketball. Wanda Maddox and Patty Manley helped in the Media Center, while Martha Mace, Cindy Marshall, Robbie Miska, and Kim Mitchell attended the

SCA meetings. Musically inclined Brian Martin participated in the Assembly Choir, the Guitar Club, Stage Band, and, along with Al Martin and Chris McConway, sang in the Chorus. Spirited Cindy Majewski, Robbie Miska, and Varsity cheerleaders Tammy Marshall, Sherry Miller, and Lisa Mills were in the Pep Club. AFS members Tammy Marshall, Al Martyn, and Lisa Mills sold candy bars, while Rhonda Mann and Mel Maynard marched in the band's halftime shows. Present in the NHS were President Martha Mace, Sherry Miller and Peacock Ice editor Kim Mitchell. Cindy Majewski proved her talents on the Leeward staff as well as in the Drama Club, while Penny Lynn, Bobby Meeks, and Tony Martin directed their attention to DECA. Active in the Chess Club were Tom Lundquist and Bobby Meeks, with Gloria Lucas in FHA.

Emily Morrison Acts As Editor of Leeway

Mitch Moore headed up the SCA as president, as Emily Morrison and Liz Olmstead served as representatives. Musically inclined Karl Protil performed in the Stage and Symphonic Bands as well as the Marching Band. Prestigious members of the NHS were Mitch Moore, Jim Nicholas, Mike O'Hare, Liz Olmstead, Jane Pemberton and Nevin Pilson. Emily Morrison inspired the Leeway staff as editor, while shutterbug Jim Nicholas captured the essence of 1979 on film. Mitch Moore strummed his guitar and used his deductive powers of reasoning as a member of the Guitar and Debate Club. International traveler Emily Morrison discoed her way through Belgium as a representative for AFS. Science Club members Andy Morriss, Anne Mullins, Jim Nicholas, Mike O'Hare, Nevin Pilson, and Karl Protil ventured into new areas on various field trips. Sports-minded Eugene Mullenax and Mike O'Hare spent the season looking for victory on the Varsity baseball and basketball teams respectively. Pep Club members Anne Mullins, Denise Nock, Pamela Nutty and Liz Olmstead decked the halls with spirit streamers, while Anne Mullins displayed her spirit as a Varsity cheerleader. Lisa Myers not only used her vocal qualities in the Assembly Choir but was singled out for the Lee Lights as well as the Music Masters. Mike O'Hare and Jim Nicholas spent their time outside playing tennis and golf respectively. Mike O'Hare counted money for the class treasury.

At High Noon the beachers are packed with restless students who attempt to unwind before afternoon classes begin.

Tonya Ridings Serves On Leeway Staff

This year's senior class revealed many potential leaders from FBLA members Janet Rexrode, Joie Rexrode, Susan Schoenthaler, and Becky Shiflett to Varsity cheerleader, Betty Rath. Our musically inclined seniors included Tammy Richie, Laura Small, and Karen Smith in the Chorus, Tonya Ridings, Tammy Richie, and Susan Schoenthaler in Stage Band, and Karen Rexrode, Susan Schoenthaler, Pam Robertson, Tonya Ridings, and Tammy Richie played in both the Symphonic and Marching Bands. Pep Club members Betty Rath and Tina Ritchie joined Pam Robertson and Susan Schoenthaler in selling candy bars for AFS. Tonya Ridings was part of the Leeway staff for her second year, and Tammy Ritchie and Nancy Sine were representatives to the SCA. Seniors selected to the NHS included Tonya Ridings, Susan Schoenthaler, Mike Simmons, and Tammy Ritchie, while Betty Rath was elected to the 1978 Homecoming court. Greg Smith played Varsity basketball along with Mike Simmons.

Sarah C. Smith Summers In Holland

The legendary Senior year was enhanced by numerous activities. Many seniors had the privilege of joining the NHS including Sarah Smith, Renee Staton, Gwen Stephenson, and Kim Swecker. Musically talented Steve Smith performed in the Stage Band, and sang in the Lee Lights and the Chorus and also gave his time and energies to the FCA. Drama was a favorite for many as Sandy Walge headed the club as president and acted in various productions with Thespian Renee Staton and Dwayne Wagner. Bob Sowers was chosen as one of the beautiful people for the Homecoming Court and also was involved with the Track team, as was Jackie Whedbee. Pep Club members Lori Tate, Kathy Vandevander, and Jackie Whedbee helped to strengthen school spirit along with Varsity cheerleader Kim Swecker. The activities of the FBLA took up much of Linda Wheeler's time while Gary Tomlin, G. H. Taylor, and Cindy White maintained afternoon jobs under the DECA program. The AFS Club was a favorite as Sarah Smith spent the summer in Holland as an exchange student and then returned to head the club as President, with Sandy Walge as one of its members. Sports interested many as Steve Smith competed on the Wrestling team and Jackie Whedbee shot two pointers on the Girl's Varsity Basketball team. Lori Tate competed on the newly formed Girl's Softball team while Sarah Tenney helped draw scenes for the Art Club's calendar. Lisa Spitzer endured morning practices of the Marching Band for the obvious advantages of taking a band trip to New York while Gwen Stephenson helped to get the new Guitar Club off to a good start. Sarah Smith kept the minutes for the ICC acting as secretary.

Beth Wood Acts As NHS Vice President

Seniors played important roles in the student life at Lee High this year. Chris Whitley, Bill Wilkerson, and Steve Casson joined DECA, while Sandy Whitmore and Beth Wood supported the Pep Club. The Chorus included Pam Wooddell and Lee Lights, Teresa Whitesell and Kim Reid, who were also selected for Music Masters. Kim Reid and Teresa Whitesell, the latter acting as President of the newly formed Guitar Club, were members of the Thespians. Nelston Darcus sang in the Assembly Choir. From our other music departments came Chris Whitley, Sandy Whitmore, Teresa Wimer, and Mark Wiseman marching in the band's halftime shows, later joining the Symphonic Band. Some athletes of the Senior Class included: Teresa Whitesell and Terisa Wimer on the volleyball court, Joyce Witherspoon and Beth Wood on the basketball team, and Robert Woods as a veteran football player. Beth Wood and Terisa Wilmer were runners on the Lee Ladies Track team.

Sheung Wong joined Art, Chess, and Science Club while Sandy Whitmore was a member of the FBLA. Proud members of the NHS were: Terisa Wimer, Mark Wiseman, Elaine Wormsley and Beth Wood as Vice-President. J. R. Rodgers participated in the French Club while SCA included Beth Wood and Ellen Langfild. Beth Wood served as a hard worker on the Leeway Staff and in AFS.

Treas. Dry Boosts Spirit In Pep Club

There were many musically minded Juniors including Ronnie Crawford, Tim Deitz, Teresa Cason, and Jon Carver who played in the band while Sarah Clem and Sally Cline sang in the Chorus. Susanne Cecchini, Bonnie Crawford, and President Amy Dawson learned housekeeping skills in the FHA as Nancy Dod, Tim Deitz, Teresa Cason, and Treasurer Elizabeth Dey boosted school spirit in the Pep Club. Language enthusiasts Franklin Clemmer and Tim Deitz took part in Spanish Club activities while Sally Cline kept up in the French Club. Tim Deitz helped plan an unforgettable prom while Franklin Clemmer was a homeroom representative. Creative Juniors Robert Davis, Mike Brown, and Tony Campbell worked with the Art Club.

Steve Fry Acts As SCA Parliamentarian

Juniors showed much spirit in relation to school organizations during their second year at R. E. Lee. DECA boasted many members including Scott Garza, acting as Vice-President, and also Robyn Hamilton, Kim Hull, and Steven Hull. J. T. Fauber, Laura Fitzgerald, Grayson Gilbert, Mitch Hamilton, Lori Hite, and Theresa Hull entertained various groups in Staunton with Stage Band's jazz, blues, and rock music. Tom Hamilton played a dual role as a Drama actor and a member of the national dramatic association, Thespians. Juniors greatly added to the sports life at Lee. Chris and Rod Early were both members on the Varsity Wrestling team and also, along with J. T. Fauber, played on the Baseball team. Brent Frank putted around Gypsy Hill Golf Course while on the Golf team while Tom Hamilton practiced hitting lobs on the Tennis team. The FCA was a favorite among students as some of its members, Brenda Earhart and Chris Early, helped to spread a spiritual tone throughout the school atmosphere. Anita Evans worked on her homemaking skills as a member of the FHA while Steve Fry helped in the governing of Lee as the SCA Parliamentarian. Nature Lover Jeff Harris went on hiking and camping trips with the Outdoor Club while Barbara Fox helped cheer football and basketball teams on to shining glory and victory as a J.V. Cheerleader. Pep Club members Julie Fitzgerald, Grayson Gilbert, Karen Hamrick, and Theresa Hull added their own enthusiasm to all aspects of spirit at school.

School spirit was strengthened by the J.V. cheerleaders Sharon Kurtz, Allison McIntyre, and Mary Ellen Mizzi. During football season Russell Maddox and Stephen Matthews could be seen playing their best out on the field while Kent Locklear, Tina Masincup, and

Billy Polhill, Marching Band members, and Barbra Moore and Karen Ramsey, Drill Team members, gave half time shows for the spectator's enjoyment during the football season. Choir members John Propst, Margaret Ralston, and Karen Ramsey received the Modern Music Masters Award. This year's SCA officers included Dale Merberger, Treasurer, and Marilyn Ohlinger, Secretary, while Anne Humphreies held the position of co-editor of the literary magazine Peacock Ice. Jack

Rasmussen was a member of the popular Outdoor Club, while Donna Meeks belonged to the Drama Club and helped with its many activities. Participants in Lee High sports were John Hutchinson, Wrestling team member, Kevin Lewis, track team runner, Terence Jones, basketball player, Robert Kirby, baseball batter, and Paul Lightner, tennis team member. AFS members Sarah Ritchie, Beth Richmond, Vicki Rohr, and Jr. Class Vice-President Kerri

Tinsley were busy selling movie tickets to "A Wedding" in order to earn money, while Cindy Rexrode, Aleta Shiflett, Kevin Shaver, Dora Shiflett, and Peggy Thompson directed their interests to DECA. In band, Marty Ridout and Vickie Rohr marched to the beat of the drums in halftime shows and parades and Doug Ryder helped out in the Media Center. Cindy Sellers and Cindy Taylor were active in the FHA, and Randy See participated in the Art Club. Sportswise Mike Taylor played baseball, while competitive Beth Richmond and Kerri Tinsley played Girl's Varsity Basketball.

Helping in the media center were Patsy Waggy and Kathy Wallen while Robbie Vest and Bill Wary spent their free time on the golf course practicing hitting hole-in-one's. Tapping her feet to the Marching Band's music in parades and half-time shows was Diane Wampler while musically inclined West Prein practiced jazz, blues, and rock with the Stage Band. Diane Wampler, Denise White, and Jeff Wright spent many of their Monday nights at Lee's FCA meetings while AFS members Kathy Waller, Dawn Wilfong, and Cynthia Peeler sold movie tickets and candy bars to raise money for future exchange students. Both

Charles Westgate and Jeff Wright learned more about planning intriguing strategies for their chess games in the newly formed club of the same name while Allyson Wease helped plan for a sock hop held by the Spanish Club in January. Nature lovers Charles Westgate, Tim Wolters, and David VanLear were members of the popular Outdoor Club and took many camping trips with the organization while Cindy White, Dawn Wilfong, and Cynthia Peeler promoted school spirit and good sportmanship as members of the Pep Club. Cynthia Peeler also gave her time and energies towards helping the Leeway meet its endless deadlines as a member of the yearbook staff. Devoting their time at the Staunton stadium were Varsity Track team members Dawn Wilfong, Tim Wolters, and Rob Wright as they ran, sprinted, and jumped day after day. Mokey Wilson and Rob Wright lifted weights to stay muscle-toned for their many wrestling matches while Mokey also helped the Juniors prepare for various class oriented activities as class president.

Liz Altizer Competes With Lee Girls' Tennis Team

Sports took up much of the sophomore's time with Steve Argenbright running track in the spring and playing football. Kara Barrett and Stephanie Beverage participated actively on the softball team while Liz Altizer competed on the varsity girl's tennis team. Cheering the teams on to victory were the members of the Pep Club, including Liz Altizer, Lynn Anderson, and Tina Armstrong. SCA activities interested Desi Agnor and Kim Barlow, as they participated in meetings and activities. The Lee High marching band included Nancy Bayne, Sarah Bell, and Liz Altizer. Trudy Agnor became a Music Master. The mysteries of science took Wayne Ayers interest in the newly-formed Science Club, while Nancy Bayne and Sarah Bell attended the weekly FCA meetings.

This year's Sophomores were involved in many school clubs. Laura Fisher and Mickael Hensley were members of the Outdoor Club, while Sue Fitzgerald, Monique Fountain, Tammy Gardner, Karen Gilbert, Becky Houser, and Glenda Fields promoted school spirit. Musically inclined Tammy Gardner added her talents to the Symphonic Band while Sue Fitzgerald, Sarah Foster, and Michael Hensley marched to the music of the Marching Band. Athlete Don Hicklin played a triple role as he played J.V. basketball along with Sophomore class Vice-President Matt Harvill, football along with Michael Hillmon, and baseball along with both Todd Hawes and Clevie Helmick. Sophomore class Treasurer Cindy Hancock and Lynne Fowler cheered on the many athletes at Lee. Debbie Graham helped with the Peacock Ice while Becky Gilbert participated in the Art Club. Pep Club members Brenda Kirby, Sherry Lotts, Leslie Lyons, and Inez McCauley boosted school spirit as Powder

Puffers Sue Majewski, Jeanne Manning, and Lynne McDonough helped to cream the Seniors. Bob Myers scored points on the JV Basketball team while Tommy Maddox competed on the Varsity Basketball team. Musicians Sherry Lilley, Mark Lloyd, and David Luckado were members of the Symphonic Band. Artistically inclined Jeanne Manning, Gary Martyn, Jeff Miller, and Sandy Mims joined the Art Club while SCA representatives David Langfitt, Leslie Lyons, and Natalie Mace helped govern the school. Our new Girl's Volleyball team boasted Sophomore class President Mary H. Kegley, Inez McCauley, and manager Brenda Kirby. Randy Knight, Teresa Massie, Gary Martyn, Jeff Miller, and Ken Mengert were involved in the DECA Club while Cathy Jordan, David Lott, Mark Lloyd, and Natalie Mace ran, sprinted, and jumped for the Track team. Band members Charlie Sander, Tracy Shifflett, Kevin Showalter, Jamie Sprunt, and Danny Stanley tooted instruments in the Marching Band while Beth Rower was involved in the Chorus and Music Masters. Chris Sprouse represented the sophomore class while Sharon Sibert played on the newly formed Volleyball team. Activities of the FCA interested members Beth Rowe, Leslie Shelton, Tracy Shifflett, Kevin and Teresa Showalter, and Sharon Sibert while Teresa Showalter, Jeff Shull, and Mary Smith helped on the Peacock Ice Staff. Pep Clubbers Sharon Sibert, Becky Simmons, and Pennie Smith tried to enhance school spirit. J.V. football players James Robinson ran track with Pat Sellers and Jeff Shull and also wrestled with Charlie Sanders. John Sowers and Jeff Ryder learned business skills in the DECA organization while Tracy Shifflett and Kevin Showalter took field trips with the Science Club.

Grey Shoots For Girls' B-ball Team

Alonzo Taylor snapped pictures for the Leeway while Gene Whitesell was a team competitor in football and track. Pep Clubbers Nancy Taylor, Marietta Veney, Jennifer Koiner, and Sabrina Wimer ignited school spirit as Jennifer also displayed her talents along with Alice Palmer and Terry Shiflett in the Art Club. Rachel Walker graced the Homecoming Court and also participated in the FCA with Jennifer

Koiner, Alice Palmer and Terry Shiflett. Musicians Michael Viglione, Alice Palmer, Sherry Wolters, Stuart Wiseman, Debbie Wimer, Gene Whitesell, and Pam Marwin marched during half time shows and in parades while Sabrina Wimer and Linda Thorton twirled batons. Languages interested students Pam Marwin and Beth Grey in the Spanish Club and Alice Palmer in the French Club while player Tommy

White and manager Tom Wiseman helped out on the JV Basketball team. Beth Grey shot two pointers on the Girl's Basketball team as Randy Varner served as a Media Aid and Robin Tinsley participated in DECA. The Science Club was an all-around favorite for Michael Thompson, Beth and Michael Viglione, Walter White, and Pam Marwin.

Chorus And Band Classes

Under the direction of Boisa Taylor, the Chorus worked on many different projects and activities aside from daily practicing. The department hosted two major concerts at Christmas and in the spring and also sold plant hangers. The Band Dept.

also offered a variety of activities. Many ensembles were formed in classes and students worked on music for concerts, band competitions, and finally, music to be used in a spring band trip. Students were instructed by Bob Sanger and Suzanne Link.

Chorusters Trudy Agnor and Teresa Whitesell smile and think of How Sweet It Is to have a day off from class.

The Music Lovers all seem to be interested in the new piece of music and set out to learn it as perfectly as possible.

Because it's The Last Day before a major test, Chorus students Kim Reid and Kenny Camden look over the material in hopes of exemption.

Since the chorus doesn't like to be Singin' In The Rain, they seek the privacy and dryness of the stage in which to practice.

With the absence of students and a little free time, Boisa Taylor enjoys The Silence of an early morning before practice begins.

Since Anything Can Happen while on stage, Tammy Marshall, Mickey Campbell, and Pam Agnor practice hard prior to an all important show.

While Suzanne Link plays the piano and Mike Viglione looks on, Tessie Ralston seems to feel that, "With a Song In My Heart, I can play this perfectly!"

Band director Bob Sanger spends time with players preparing a new Song For The Open Road which they must soon play in a parade.

Early morning dew and crisp fall weather beckons a Band Of Angels onto the football field to practice for upcoming shows.

With drumsticks in hand, Danny Luckads mind wanders to the time when he and other band members travel to New Jersey and tour New York, New York.

Though singing in chorus is hard work, everyone has lots of Good Times, including the giving of a "concert" by Roger Morgan.

Art Rooms are Bursting with Creative Talent

The Art classes did many different things this year including silkscreen printing, Egyptian clay sculpture and a 23 foot mural "The Aquarium". There were two guests – Julia Drinkard, a fiber artist, and Pobai Hefelfinger, a portrait artist.

Capturing The Truth About Spring on canvas this student concentrates on sketching the scene outside.

Caught Midway between one project and another Marietta Vency looks up and catches the photographer's eye.

World In My Corner – the art room does seem like a small private world to the art students and anyone else entering that room.

Thinking of Artists and Models Sheung Wong works on his oil painting trying to get just the right effect.

Looking like The Mechanic this Industrial Arts student assembles his metal sheet for the printing press.

The Hand must be kept steady to work with clay as this art student realizes while he finishes his sculpture.

Resembling Minnie Pearl with her price-tagged hat Mrs. Pam Tinsley looks Forever Female.

While he may not be sketching The Picture Of Dorian Gray this student makes his drawing very carefully.

This mural shows the underwater life 20,000 Leagues Under The Sea with many unusual fish and plants.

With the entrance of the yearbook photographer, one accountant covers her eyes and seems to say, "For Pete's Sake, aim that camera at someone else!"

Seemingly oblivious to her surroundings, Susan Argenbrite types on her Fuddy Duddy Buddy, the ever-faithful typewriter.

Propped upon each typist's desk, this innocent book can tell magnificent stories of anything from photographic hints to Edison The Man.

Amid the Bedlam of adding machines and typewriters, accounting students somehow manage to successfully master the skills with ease.

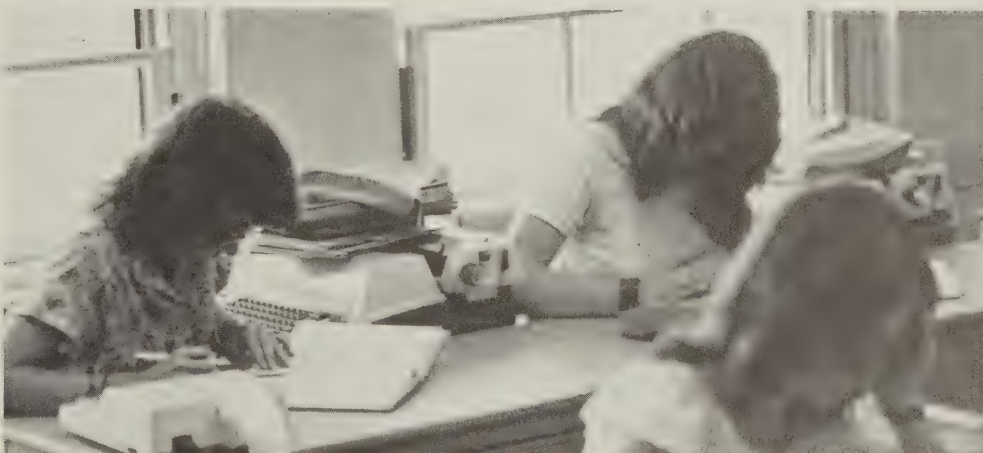

Possibly aspiring to be a cover story writer for The Front Page of the newspaper, Gary Moran pecks out yet another typing assignment.

Upon a typewriter, The Hands Of A Stranger type out unknown messages to a mysterious person in typing class.

Career-minded Students Learn Business Skills

Business students learned many of the basics of courses such as typing, bookkeeping, and clerical typing. Many juniors and seniors took a half semester of personal typing, and then took another subject for the other semester. Bookkeeping students, taught by Phenix Williams, Karen Fitzgerald, or Sue Morley, dealt in the skills of accounting, and were to become successful typists.

Diligently working on their accounting work, Sherry Young and Renee Kester know that Come Next Spring, they will have mastered the skills.

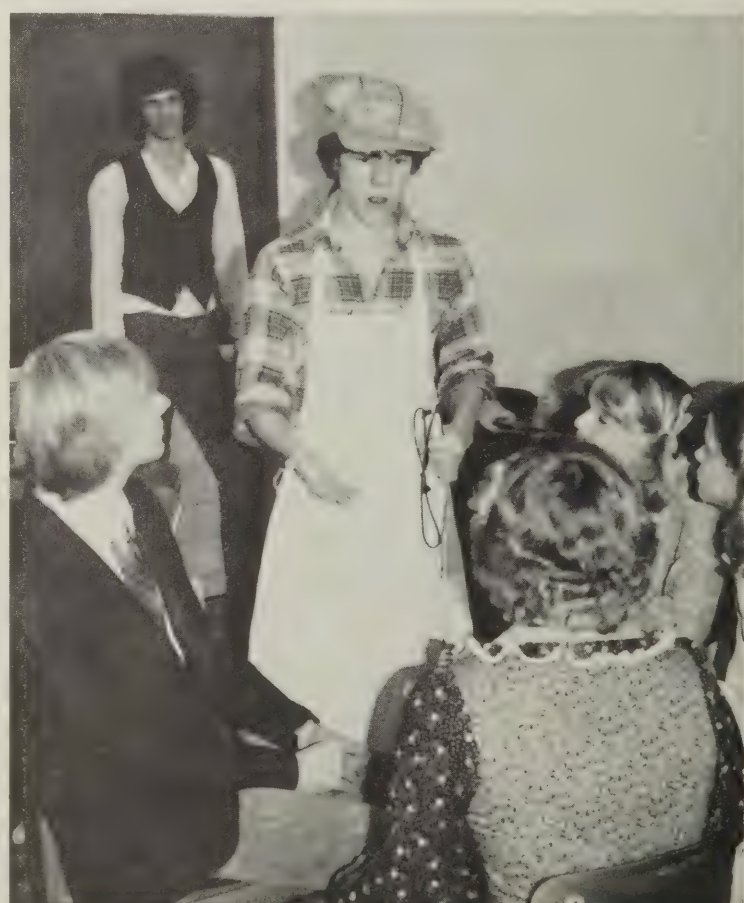

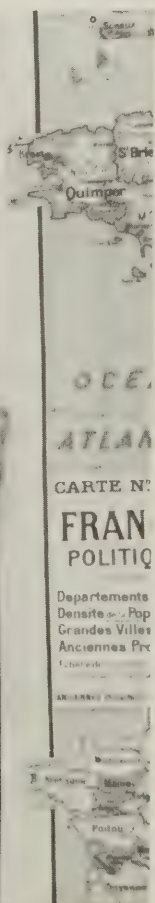

After making a tiny mistake but unable to erase or type over it, Tommy Harlow begins to tackle the problem The Second Time Around.

Need information, help, or typing guidelines? Merely ask The Informer, Karen Fitzgerald, and she'll gladly assist you.

New Spanish teacher Ed Miska helps a student with his vocabulary, unknowing that he is instead gazing out the Rear Window.

Language Students Act, Teach, and Speak

Language students endeavored this year to learn a new foreign language. Many times, the sounds of americanized French or Spanish could be heard in the halls by a passerby. Aside from learning difficult grammar structures and strange vocabulary, students also enjoyed watching movies on the foreign country and customs or even watching familiar fairy tales in a different tongue. Second and third year students created their own commercials and skits which were videotaped. Sometimes, students were required to do research on French or Spanish history, culture, and customs, then "teach" the class about it. All in all, much was gained from one, two, or three years training in a foreign language and though no one could speak fluently, all those involved enjoyed learning more about the world we live in.

Betty Pullin tries to emphasize the fact that in order to understand Spanish, students must turn over a New Leaf and study harder.

While these students aren't working and acting like Mexican Spitfire, they are buckling down on their "Espanol" test.

A passerby spots Karen Scott preparing French tapes for her class which may possibly describe a glamorous Paris Holiday.

Every class is made up of The Good Guys and the Bad Guys, but Mr. Grant is always willing to help out anyone.

Easter Brings Earrings and Englishmen

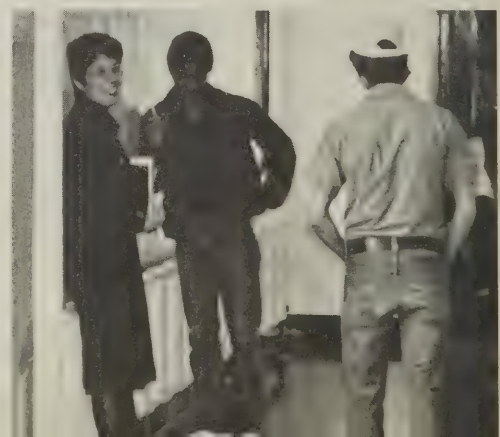

A group of English students led by Mrs. Jean Daniels toured many interesting places in England during the week long Easter vacation. Along with schools from Elkton, Augusta County, and Waynesboro, these Lee students visited Canterbury, Windsor Castle, Trinity Church, Hyde Park and other legendary settings. Much to the surprise of parents and fellow students, several boys returned with pierced ears, a fashion in Europe. Back in Staunton the English Department was alive with Hawthorne, Poe, Chaucer, and Shakespeare.

MacBeth and Chaucer serve as Dream Stuff for Gary Dodson as he takes a snooze during a not so busy time in English.

When students are given the opportunity to express their views in essay form, Terry Boyle sighs that Anything Goes.

Mrs. Martin, The Enforcer, serves on the lunch shift to keep the halls quiet, but isn't always as strict as she seems.

Complex Facts & Figures Baffle Student's Mind

The Math Department taught students the basics of Geometry, Algebra, Analysis, and Calculus. Taught by James Christy, Linda Hickey, Bill Robertson, Gene Blackmer, and Jay Higgs, many sophomores, juniors, and seniors learned the important facts and figures of math.

Balancing a piece of chalk on his lip, Gene Blackmer performs one of his not-so Nasty Habits for his Physics students.

Facing the demands of a difficult Algebra quiz, these students tell each other, "Don't Give Up The Ship, everything will turn out alright!"

It's apparent that Bill Robertson is Such Good Friends with his students that he sits himself down with them and helps with the Trig Questions.

While other classmates study up on their exams, Bill Wray awakens from The Big Sleep after hearing the answer to an intriguing problem.

Student Teachers Bring Change of Scenery to Lee

Physical Education, a required but enjoyable course for sophomores, includes a variety of activities. Driver training and first aid are taught in the classroom, while basketball, softball, gymnastics, and other sports are instructed in the gym and outdoors. The teachers are coaches Sharon Metcalfe, Toni Roby, Joe Cochran, and Warren Tetley. Two student teachers from JMU, Mr. Reda and Mr. Woodson, assisted throughout the second semester and were enjoyed by all teachers and students.

The Silverstreak? Coach Tetley finds the easiest way of instructing his students is to demonstrate several vaults.

Although some students take their games seriously, Becky Simmons will be the one to Enter Laughing.

While biology students may not learn How To Make A Monster, they do learn to draw other strange specimens.

Suddenly It's Spring and student's minds turn from the anatomy of fish to the warm sunny afternoons.

Getting the creatures Dead Or Alive is the objective Wendy Shircliff has in mind as she peers through her microscope.

Bio. Classes make amazing discoveries

For those who suffered through sophomore biology or just smelled the results, the year led up to the dissection of various animals from clams to cats. Physics students experimented with the effects of kinetic power by using the judo technique as an example. The chemistry classes explored the mysteries of the likes of such personalities as Jekels and Hydes.

As she breaks board with her bare hand in one judo chop, Julie Folke shows that she is One Wonderful Girl.

During an Interlude of quiet in class, Kelly Fitzgerald takes over the teacher's position while Mike O'Hare looks on.

Looking up from some Unfinished Business, Steve Cope catches the eye of the Leeway photographer.

Social Science Student Tried In Court Case

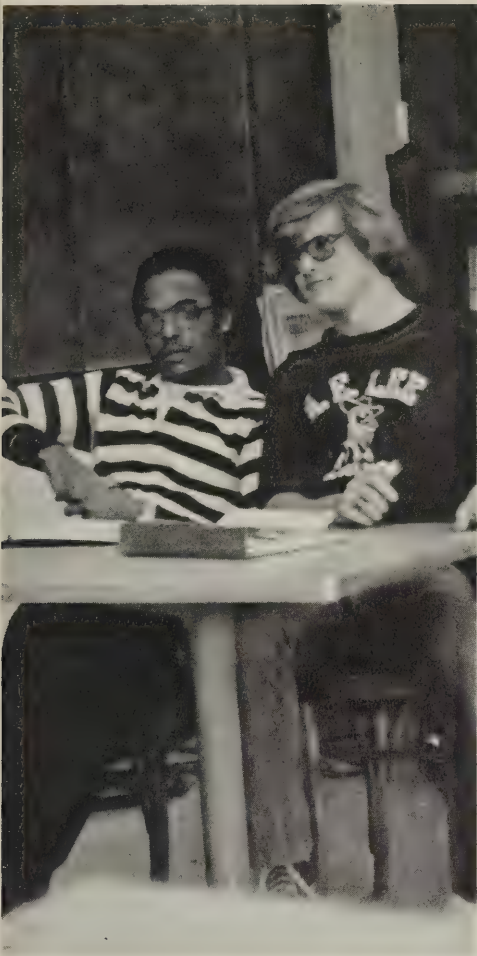

In Mrs. Meeks government classes, mock trials were held to give students a taste of the court procedures. A murder case was presented and it was up to each class to decide the outcome. Administrators from the Staunton Correctional Center came to speak to Sociology classes on Imprisonment. The Economics classes basically dealt with the stock market and marketing, while U.S. and World History enhanced others into the Social Sciences. An advanced History course is offered each year covering constitutional policies and international affairs. This year it was taught by Don Hamilton. Many students participated in the Mock General Assembly held in the spring at Trinity Episcopal church. Ellen Langfitt had the honor of serving as Governor of the session.

As Mr. Hamilton drills historical dates into the minds of his students, they are convinced when they tell him, "They Won't Forget."

1776 Rod Early and Rod Early become totally frustrated as an important date slips from their mind during a test.

"The Law is the Law," argues the prosecutor in the mock trial held by Ms. Meek's class when Jimmy Brent was accused of murder.

"Judge" Chris McCauley patiently listened to the cases prepared by each side and witness Steve Smith before he made a decision in The Trial.

Hardees employees David Elmore, Sherry Nock, Daryl Harper, Bob Sowers, and Terry Nock show that Five Is A Crowd of fun and hard-working Leemen.

Pupil's Jobs Fill Time And Earn Extra Money

When not working on school assignments, many students engaged themselves in an after-school job. Many of the jobs were arranged through the DE Department, but most were obtained by students themselves. Juniors, sophomores, and seniors alike did work that included anything from flipping hamburgers to accepting bank deposits, and teaching basketball to selling organs.

Counting up the day's profits for Drug Fair, The Millionaire of the future, Sarah Smith, gives a welcome smile to a customer.

Different Jobs Help Students Fight Inflation

Jobs take much of the free time of Lee students whether they're earning money to go to college or for social activities. These were some of the different jobs students did from toymaker to newspaper arranger, usually earning the minimum wage. One popular job was being a saleslady or salesman for a variety of stores such as those shown here: JR's, Sidneys, and Kmart. "The Staunton Leader" also hired many Lee students to deliver papers along with the more specialized job of secretary.

Many Lee students worked in Bonanza under the sign advertising free lunches for $1.99. Along with the above the YMCA, downtown stores and many other places kept the students in spending money.

EXTRAS

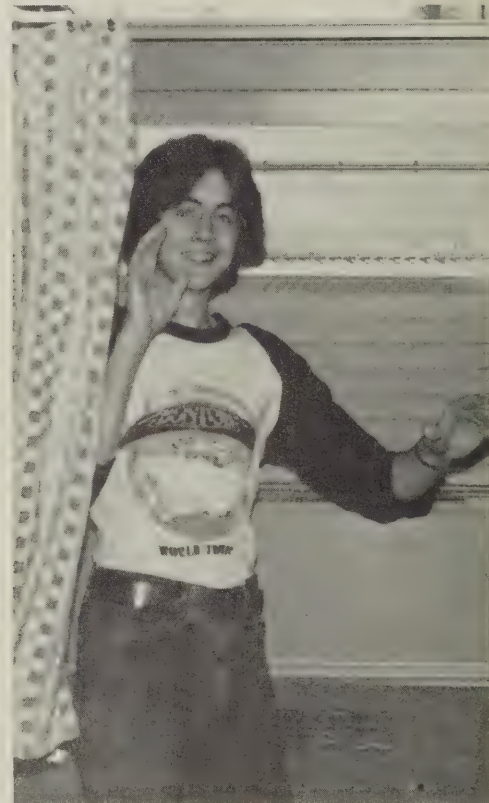

After all the important work is finished, the SCA officers take time out to play some Games with the typewriter.

As Pat Cason stands in front of the student body ready to give her speech she marks in her mind as this to be A Day To Remember.

Reminiscing with the SCA Scrap Book, the officers all agree that it shows The Best of Everything and a little bit more.

As Nevin Pilson finishes his Big Business, the photographer catches him off guard as he opens the curtain to the voting booth.

T. Boyle and M. Moore Head SCA

Holding the position of SCA president this year was Mitch Moore. Filling the other offices were John Manning as vice-president, Marilyn Ohlinger as secretary and Dale Merberger as treasurer. A new office was added during the term in which Tammy Ritchie served as SCA reporter. These five officers, with the help of the SCA's new advisor Mrs. Terry Boyle, accomplished many jobs. After the results of the elections for next year's officers were tallied, Brent Frank was elected president, Allan Garrison as vice-president, Natalie Mace as secretary, Mike Vigilone as treasurer and Patricia Cason as reporter. It looks to be a very successful year in 1979.

Looking at the calendar of events, Mitch Moore and the SCA seem to be Made For Each Other as he acts as a successful president.

"Thank You All Very Much," says this group of newly elected officers for the 1979-80 term at Robert E. Lee.

The Arrangement of the Lee High newspaper is formed in the journalism class by various students who dedicate their own time for the cause.

Pointing out libelous inferences in the copy, Mrs. Obenschain reminds Mike Hanger, you should Never Put It In Writing.

Clubs Add Variety To Activity Periods

Two new clubs highlighted the activities of some students this year with the addition of the Chess and Guitar Clubs. Both were headed by newcomer Gene Blackmer. In the Guitar Club, President Teresa Whitesell was helped in business matters by V. President Karen Losh, Mitch Moore and Brian Martin, Treasurer and Secretary respectively. The Club busied itself with the basics of guitar playing and displayed their talents at the Leggett Christmas party by serenading the workers with sweet guitar melodies. The Chess Club was also very popular. Besides playing and practicing strategies during their Activity Period, they also enjoyed the game during lunch. Officers were president, Randy See, and Carter Green and Walter White helped Randy in other official matters. At the end of the year, the group competed against the Waynesboro Chess Club.

With the introduction of a Journalism class this year, many students helped in the writing of a school newspaper, the Leeword. Although Lee had previously held Journalism classes in past years, the 1978-79 Leeword was the first in about four years. With the help of Claudette Obenschain, Mike Hanger and Cindy Majewski, Editor and Co-Editor respectively, supervised the writing of articles, interviews, typing, etc. The Staff produced five editions, with regular articles such as feature stories, school news, concert updates, and a calendar of events. Danny Spotts and Lynne Barachie handled all the typing, which included two special issues — one, a Leebird April Fool's Day newspaper, and the other a Senior issue which contained Senior's Last Will and Testament and future plans, and Prom activities of students. The Leeword was a popular item with students, and it is hoped that the newspaper will continue in years to come.

Members of the Peacock Ice Catch 22 reasons why a story can not be published, so that only the exceptional ones make it.

The Fortune the Peacock Ice brings in is small but Editor Kim Mitchell talks over the rewards with Advisor Connie Harris.

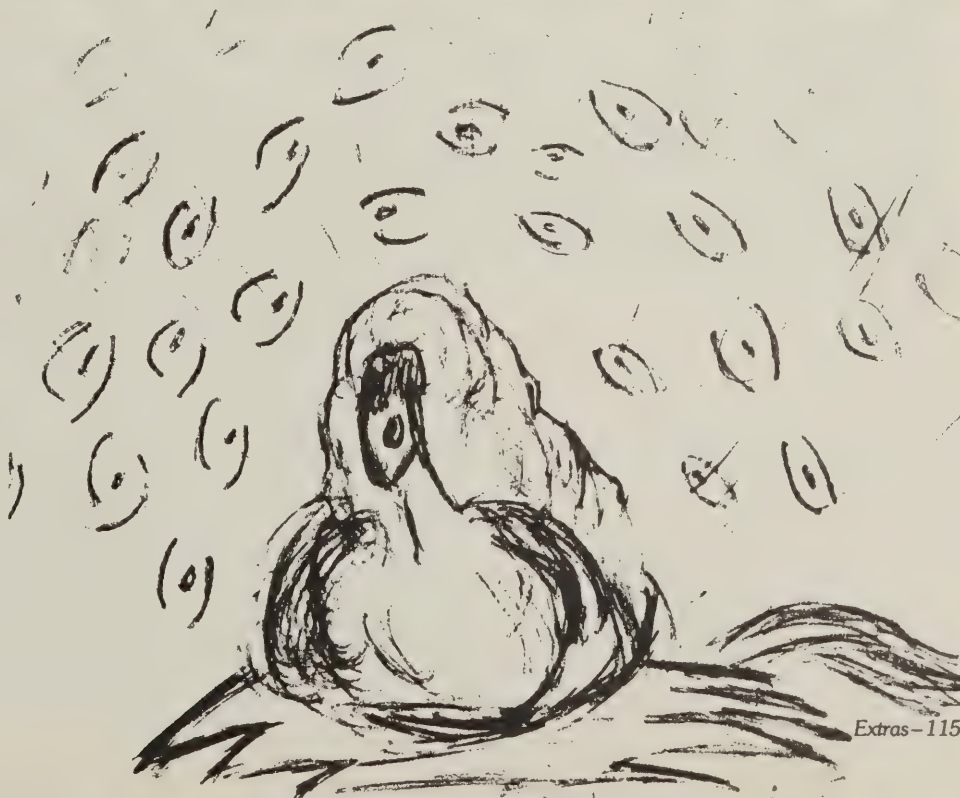

Spanish Club Sponsors Disco Night

The Spanish and French Clubs and Peacock Ice were very popular with students this year. Spanish Club officers included Tami Helmick, President, Kathy Duckworth, Vice President, Lisa Stevens, and Secretary-Treasurer, and Coordinator, Jane Pemperton. A major project of the club was a disco sponsored in January. French Club was also a favorite. Headed by Karen Scott and President Diane Buske, the club engaged in selling stationery and washing cars. A banquet was held in the spring with French dishes being served. The Peacock Ice staff was an active organization this year. Kim Mitchell acted as editor in chief and had a helpful staff to assist her. The staff published a magazine with many interesting and excellent articles and drawings submitted by students. Some of the stories were also printed in the Staunton News Leader.

Foreign Affair – The Spanish Club is pictured here as they are about to plan a money making idea for the upcoming month.

When the French Club has a meeting in the media center, the library is turned into The Playhouse for these students.

Class Reps. Encourage Active Club Participation

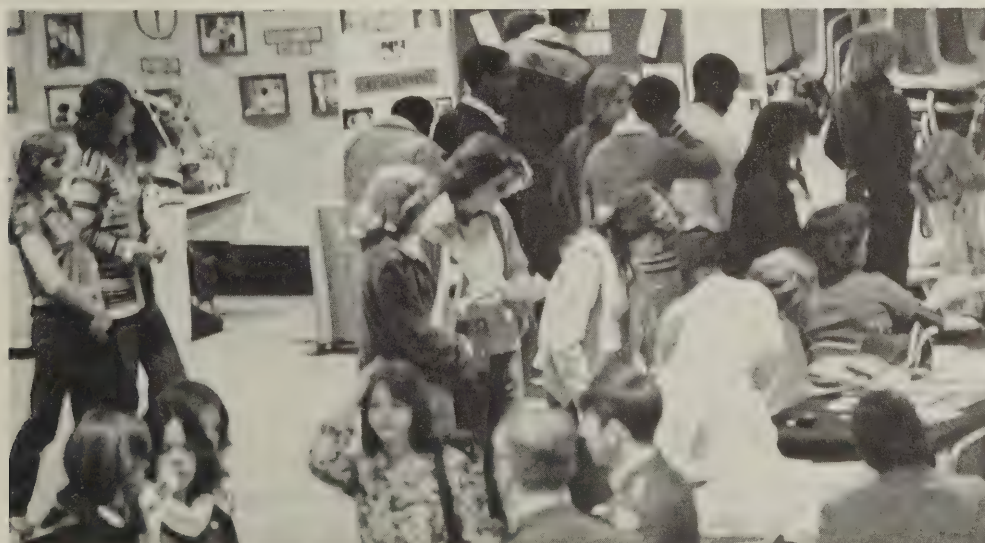

As a student at Lee, each is a member of their own separate class and is encouraged to participate in competitions. A major project was had by each class; seniors: Graduation gifts and events; juniors: the Prom; and sophomores: fund raising. An honorary organization advised by Angelo Cacciapaglia, and comprised of faculty chosen seniors, was the Honor Council. The group tries students who are violators of the Honor Council.

Junior Class Reps. Just Imagine how nice of a prom they will present with the great planning and coordination they put together.

Juniors Kevin Lewis, Kent Locklear, and Tim Dietz step out of the pages of American Graffiti in their zany costumes.

Sophomore Class officers know that It Takes All Kinds to put together and organize class projects like the magazine drive.

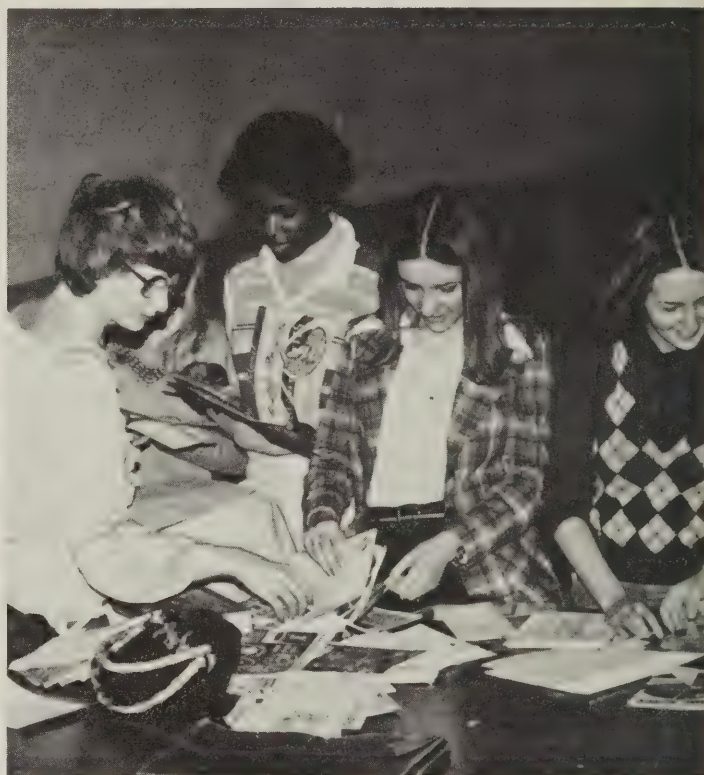

As a class, sophomores attend an Expo career day and with some county students, witness the Bedlam of crowds and excitement.

FBLA, FHA and FBLA Promote Community Services

The Lee High Chapter of the Distributive Education Clubs of America was very busy this year. They participated in many activities: some for enjoyment, and others for the benefit of the community. Glen Varner, president of DECA worked closely with advisors Harry Lunsford, Marty Gieson, and Jenny Bolt. Together they undertook such projects as a Christmas party and Easter Egg hunt for the children at VSD, an employer-employee banquet, and a trip to King's Dominion. The club also attended a "Fall Rally" at Grand Caverns and helped in the Staunton "Fiesta", a promotional event for the downtown shopping area.

The Future Homemakers of America was another active club at Lee this year. Advisor Dorothy Wood, co-advisor Marietta Beverage, and president Amy Dawson sponsored a bake sale and a tea for the teacher's lounge. They took part in FHA week and had a speaker to talk to the group. The Future Business Leaders of America, under the supervision of Sue Wilson and club president Judy Collier, started a scholarship fund this year for graduating business students. The club also attended the FBLA Spring Conference held at JMU, and had a sale, with all proceeds going to the March of Dimes.

Sometimes students are a little inattentive, but They Won't Forget all they hear and learn in DECA.

Coming to speak to the DECA club on the job of an insurance salesman was a man from Our Town greeted by sponsors Ms. Gieson and Mr. Lunsford.

FBLA provides an opportunity for students to discover how to later be useful, responsible members In Society.

The clubs assembly in the fall of each year is not only a time to join interesting activities but a chance to see an Old Acquaintance.

Here The VIP's of FHA are busy planning the functions of the club, with Mrs. Dorothy Wood as their leader.

A student goes through many tough situations during the school week, but some club meetings prove to be the least of their Hard Times.

Presiding as the minister in FHA's Mock Wedding, Wanda Poe explains the meaning of marriage, stating that it should last From Here To Eternity.

In every corner of the school, whether it's obvious or more inconspicuous, signs of learning, growing, and Living in a Big Way are evident.

Though many sophomores sign up for clubs in the fall unaware of their activities, Come Next Spring each one can inform new students from experience.

Before leaving for an AFS tour, Pekka Holopainen and his "mother" Mrs. Love smile warmly as they recall the Good Times they've shared.

AFS representatives from Lee High Sarah Smith, Pekka Holopainen, and Emily Morrison present a Foreign Intrigue to students.

"When I had just arrived to the United States, I sometimes wondered how my year would turn out. Well, it was much better than I thought. I had a great time.

Now, a couple of days before I am due to leave Staunton, I can say that I am glad I came, even though I will have to do my senior year again when I go back to Finland. I did not waste a year.

Someone asked me what I would miss most in the United States – without hesitation I said "the people". I do sincerely thank you for making me feel at home and for making my year at Staunton a happy one.

God bless you each one,"

Pekka

"I spent the summer of 1978 in Enschede, Holland. I lived with a family of six, who adopted me as a member of their family. I learned their way of life by living and experiencing it. I got to know the people personally and I learned their habits, customs, and language.

I shall never forget my trip to the Netherlands and I hope to return there someday."

Sarah Smith

During an interesting assembly given by AFS students, students listen to One Woman's Story of Holland given by Sarah Smith.

"If It's Tuesday, This Must Be Belgium" – Emily Morrison and her "sister" Nadine reminiscently smile as dreams of a great summer fill their minds.

Last summer, I lived in Dilsen, Belgium as an AFS foreign exchange student. I lived with a very caring family and by their accepting me as a member of their family and not treating me like a special guest, I was able to learn much of the Belgium customs, language, and lifestyle.

The experience of living in Belgium and being surrounded completely by the Dutch was really invaluable to me. I learned a lot about myself and others, my country at home, and away and the world in general.

Emily Morrison

Sitting at the sign up desk for AFS Club, Jalane Huffman informs students that it is The Day And The Hour to become a member.

With The Sky Above And The Mud Below, AFS Club members are caught not necessarily off guard, but in a moment of confusion.

Finnish Foreign Student Finds Lee Fun

The AFS club had a full schedule this year undertaking various projects. A foreign exchange student sponsored by AFS attending Lee this year was Pekka Holopainen, a native of Finland. He spoke to several clubs and students on the customs and culture of his country.

Students helped sell tickets for a movie put on by the adult members of the AFS called "A Wedding". Many tickets were sold and the theater was packed for the one night showing. Another money-making project was the selling of candy. There were always eager customers around the boxes labeled "Snickers", "Milky Way", or "M&M".

The AFS program is continued throughout the summers as well. Last summer Sarah Smith and Emily Morrison participated in the exchange program by spending time in Europe. Emily visited Belgium, while Sarah enjoyed life in Holland. Back at Lee this year, they shared their many exciting experiences with the student body at an assembly.

The Organizer of the Outdoor Club is Mark White, whose responsibility is to plan activities, and excursions for the club.

Variety Of Clubs Are Found At Lee

The FCA—Fellowship of Christian Athletes—had a very busy year involving approximately 30 members. Mark Mays acted as President, Bonnie Plamer as Vice-President, and Tammy Richie served in the dual office of Secretary/Treasurer. $50.00 was earned by the FCA members by parking cars at John Lewis as their money project for the year. They spent a weekend at Piney Mountain, a local retreat this fall and went caroling at the Oak Hill nursing home. The Day of the Champions at UVA saw FCA members from all over the state meet for a day of fun and devotions. The FCA meets every Monday night and every other activity period during school. The many speakers for the Monday night meetings included: Temple Myers, Bob Walton, Spencer Turnipseed, Steve Goforth and a special program by some JMU students. The banquet held at the end of the year was a great success. The Outdoor Club was again part of this year's activities. Mark White, photography and shop teacher, held the position of advisor. He set up many hikes — both foot and bike — and camping expeditions. The club even went caving at one of the nearby caves. The Science Club was one of the new clubs added to this year's activity period. Physics teacher Gene Blackmer, acted as this year's advisor. The Science Club went on many trips such as to the Smithsonian Institute and Bushe Gardens. There was also a bridge building contest in which Lee High entered. Lee received several top honors and awards with its bridges.

Science members learn about many things, ranging from the structure of bridges to why It's Tuff To Be A Bird.

As Science Club members laugh at the stories Mr. Gene Blackmer tells about Flash the Teenage Otter, they can't help but wonder if they're true.

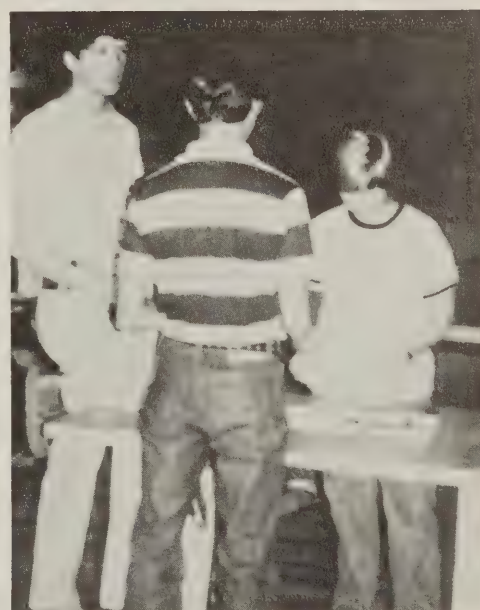

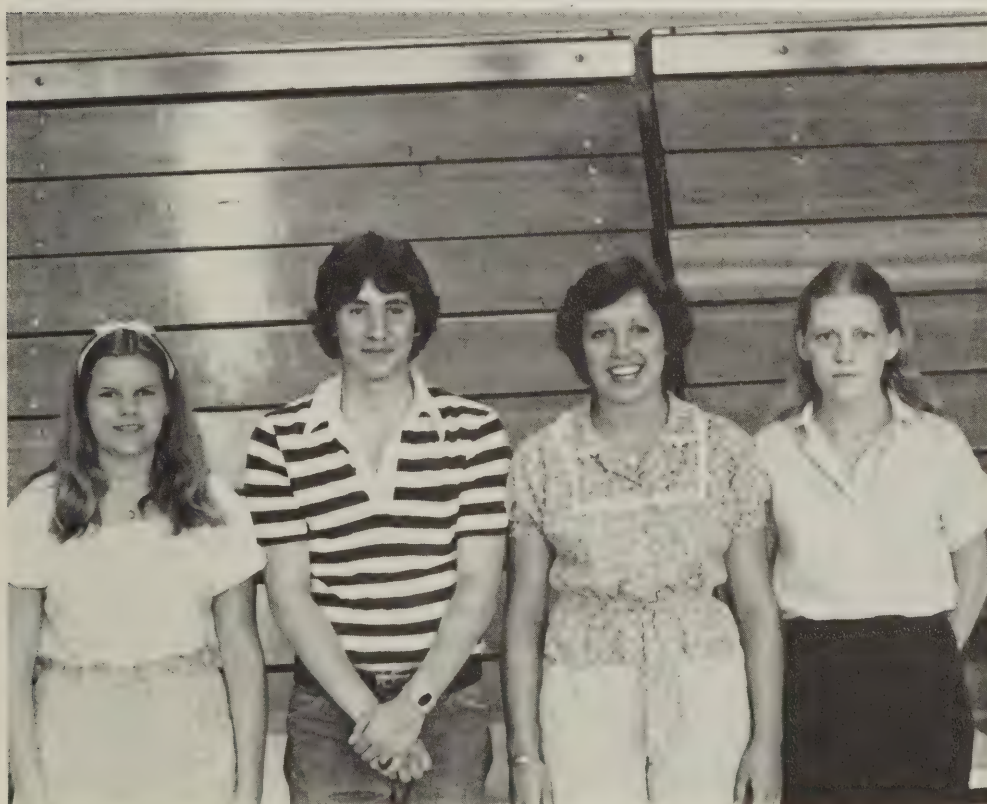

The Science Club discusses many things such as the harmful effects that Smoking and Sniffing can do to a person.

Many Outdoor Club Members make contact with Nature's Strange Creatures on campouts, hikes, and excursions.

The FCA members share their experiences and ideas of The Light Before Us in their Monday night meetings.

Artists And Dramatists Enlighten Students

The Art and Drama Clubs provided a creative outlet for many students. The Art Club, advised by Pam Tinsely with Robbie Miska acting as President, undertook a major endeavor which was the second edition of a school calendar. Students individually drew pictures of scenic spots in and around Staunton for the calendars. Money from this project went towards a trip to Washington, D.C. to visit the National Gallery of Art. The Drama Club, advised by Diane Wimer, sponsored a major production in the fall entitled "A Portrait Of Jennie." In the John Lewis Founder's Day Festival held in the spring, actors and actresses performed comical roles for the public.

Art Club advisor Pam Tinsley suggests to Wanda Maddox that Painting The Clouds With Sunshine will brighten up any picture.

Art Club President Robbie Miska acts as The Head of all the projects and entertainment that the club involves itself.

Interested members of the Art Club listen intently to A Guest In The House, as he demonstrates stained glass techniques.

Caught debating about some recent event, Chris Grover and Greg Smith gain useful Carnal Knowledge from their sports magazines.

Library Meets Needs Of Lee's Students

This year, as always, the Media Center served as a useful and interesting place for students to visit. Stocked with stacks and stacks of books on any imaginable subject, sophomores, juniors, and seniors alike enjoyed all that the library had to offer. Used as a popular meeting place for friends at lunch or just a place to sit and study up on a future test, the Media Center was certainly one of the more interesting spots in Lee High.

A student smiles as he hears the Voices of other students echoing in the library during an afternoon study hall.

While Jay Robinson waits for students to check out books, Patty Manley leafs through a magazine and pauses to read the review on California Suite.

In between talking about the latest school news, Sabrina Winer and Lori Whisman quiz each other on How To Succeed In Business Without Really Trying.

Acting as Media Aides, these students do the Dirty Work of fixing broken TV's and other video equipment during the day.

Sr. Christmas Day And Spotlight Are Big Success

The Class of '79 was unable to set up a Christmas Assembly due to the lack of time, but this did not dampen their holiday spirits. Being chosen by their fellow classmates, eight students went from class to class spreading good tidings and cheer on the last day before break. Acting as Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus were jolly Brian Martin and Pam Agnor. Their "little helpers" were Jackie Bradley, Elwood Fisher, Faron Ocheltree and Kim Swecker. The jingle of sleigh bells was sounded by Beth "Rudolph" Wood, while Bobby Wood portrayed Scrooge. Still wanting to put on a show and display their many talents, the class got together and created a Senior Spotlight. After many weeks of planning and a solid week of hard practice the seniors were able to put on an enjoyable assembly. Talents ranged from singers such as Kim Reid and Teresa Whitesell to commercials like Disco Break demonstrated by Steve Altizer and Jackie Bradley to skits such as Mr. Rodgers done by Jimmy Haines and Tim Summers. Senior advisors Mrs. Becky Harvill and Mrs. Wanda Pae added their touch of class to the performance by playing a "classical" duet on the piano.

The Promise of good tidings is spread throughout the school by Brian Martin alias Santa Claus on the last day before Christmas break.

Standing next to The Girl Who Came Gift-Wrapped, Beth Wood giggles at the strange outfit of Emily Morrison.

Mistaken for A Court Jester Karen Collins is decked out as a candy cane to show her Christmas spirit.

As Mastermind Becky Harvill talks over her plans with Mrs. Jena Daniels, she knows this year's assembly will be another successful one.

A Christmas Carol — these seven seniors do not let the spirit of Christmas slip away without a little fun.

Here stands The Ten Who Dared to be in the Senior Spotlight as the rest wait in the rear before coming on stage to take a final bow.

A Lucky Set is being played as Pam Agnar, Mickey Cambal and Tammy M. get ready to sing "Freak".

A Star is Born — Kim Reid backed by The Class Of '79 sings another one of her songs which she hopes is another hit.

In the Senior Spotlight posing as one of the Blues Brothers, Mike O'Hare attempts to disprove that Good Guys Wear Black.

What's this A Country Music Holiday at Lee? No, just four senior girls telling gossip to the rest of the students.

The Lady Sings the Blues — Teresa Whitesell won the audience over with the song that she wrote and composed herself.

Dressed in his loafers and cardigan sweater Jimmy Haine's imitation of Mr. Rogers was The Talk Of the Town.

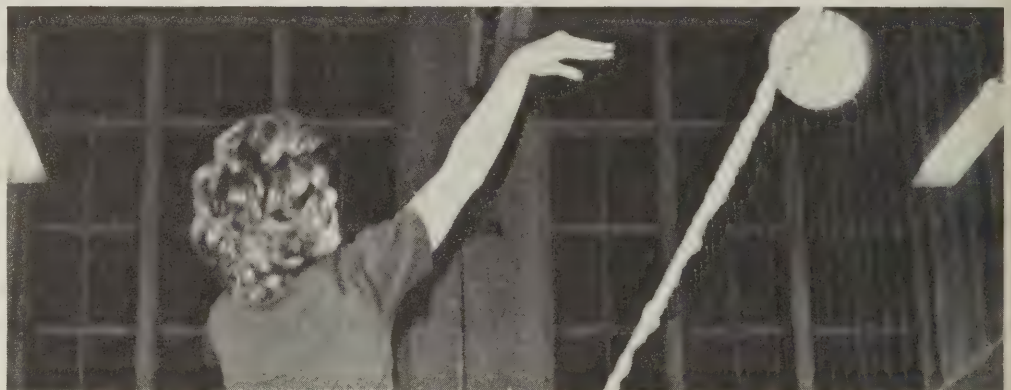

Raising his contraption high in the air, Sheung Wong gives his Battlecry as he is about to smash a tomato.

Anyone Can Play but the faculty was lucky to get a real pro like Terry Boyle to outmaneuver the students.

Students Are Unable To Defeat Powerful Faculty

Walking away with two hard fought victories, the faculty defeated the students in both volleyball and basketball. The volleyball match consisted of three games in which the students won the first and lost the next two. The half-time show was exciting as Mary Ellen Mizzi threw a pie into Mr. Delmer Botkin's face. The match up between the males of Lee became a rough, all-out war by the time the final buzzer sounded. The faculty again came out ahead but not without a hard workout.

As the faculty cheerleaders Scream and Scream Again for their teams to score, the onlooking students are amazed at the faculty's spirit.

After taking her warm up serve Sherry Nock already knows that this game between the students and faculty members will be A Night To Remember.

Spiking the volleyball over the net is Child's Play to Terry Boyle as she goes high in the air unopposed by the shorter defenders.

Telling the crowd through her megaphone that Here Comes Everybody on the faculty team is senior English teacher Bobbi Macomber.

Being picked by students with Revenge, Assistant principal Delmer Botkin gets hit in the face with a pie by Mary Ellen Mizzi during halftime.

"Hip, Hip Hurray," screams Mrs. Jean Ziegler as tiny but powerful Wanda Poe rushed forward to save the play.

Ready, Set, Zoom goes Mel Maynard after the volleyball during the Student-Faculty game as she tries to bring the students in reach of a victory.

The Call Of the Wild from the faculty cheerleaders are greeted by smirks and jeers from the onlooking students.

Going up for a jump ball Coach Carter thinks Gone Are the Days that he can outjump a senior like Tim Summers.

Student teacher Jim Woodson spends part of his Bright College Years as a ringer ball player for the faculty side.

Legs cross and smirks break loose as Cynthia Peeler, Beth Wood, Emily Morrison, Tonya Ridings, and Renee Staton display A Touch Of Class.

The staff members Hail To The Chief Editor as Emily Morrison prepares numerous assignments for everyone to work on.

It happens every Spring to Bobbi Macomber who kicks up her heels in anticipation of the warmer days to come.

Leeway Completed With Much Hard Work And Fun

The Leeway staff, though small and under new supervision, worked hard throughout the year to produce an acceptable year-book. Headed by first year teacher Bobbi Macomber, members Tonya Ridings, Beth Wood, Cynthia Peeler, and Renee Staton worked with Leeway Editor Emily Morrison. Photographers Jim Nicholas, Mark Mays, and Alonzo Taylor worked hard to turn assigned pictures in on time.

As Beth Wood looks off into the distance, unaware of the camera's flash, she Day Dreams of the time when all the Leeway work is done.

Doing an abrupt About Face, Tonya Ridings glances away from the camera with a look of surprise.

The chores of annual staff can be demanding, as Cynthia Peeler shuffles through a Network of Leeway papers.

Wading through the Mumbo Jumbo of notebook after notebook, Renee Staton attempts to match movie titles with endless pictures of student life.

Leeway staff members Emily Morrison, Tonya Ridings, and Beth Wood show how Fun and Fancy Free annual staff can be.

In order to come up with new ideas for the Leeway, Cynthia, Beth, Renee, Ms. Bobbi Macomber, and Tonya put their Heads Together.

Unaware that someone has taken her picture, Slick Chick Tonya Ridings ponders over what would make an interesting caption.

Monthly Deadlines Produce Headaches

Putting together an annual is very difficult work, as all the Leeway staff quickly learned. The photographers were Jim Nicholas, Mark Mays, and Alonzo Taylor, who were constantly receiving assignments for pictures. The publishing company for Leeway is Delmar, out of Charlotte, North Carolina, and our company representative is helpful Bob Tavener. Jay Higgs acted as Business Manager for the yearbook and was in charge of all financial matters.

Holding a Fistful Of Dollars, Bobbi Macomber eyes the profits made from a day's work of selling annual subscriptions.

Due to the constant need for extra pictures, Bobbi Macomber explains to Jim Nicholas that it's Never Too Late to take more candid.

Leeway photographer Alonzo Taylor experiences one of the most demanding Adventures of a Young Man due to the everlasting need for more pictures.

Five unprofessional Lee dancers attempt to form A Chorus Line as they try to link arms and kick up their legs without bursting into giggles.

I Am A Camera — Mark Mays, Leeway shutterbug, takes time out from his school studies and activities to take various pictures for the yearbook.

Leeway advisor Bobbi Macomber begins to strangle Emily Morrison as she and other staff members go Psycho when deadlines are too quickly approaching.

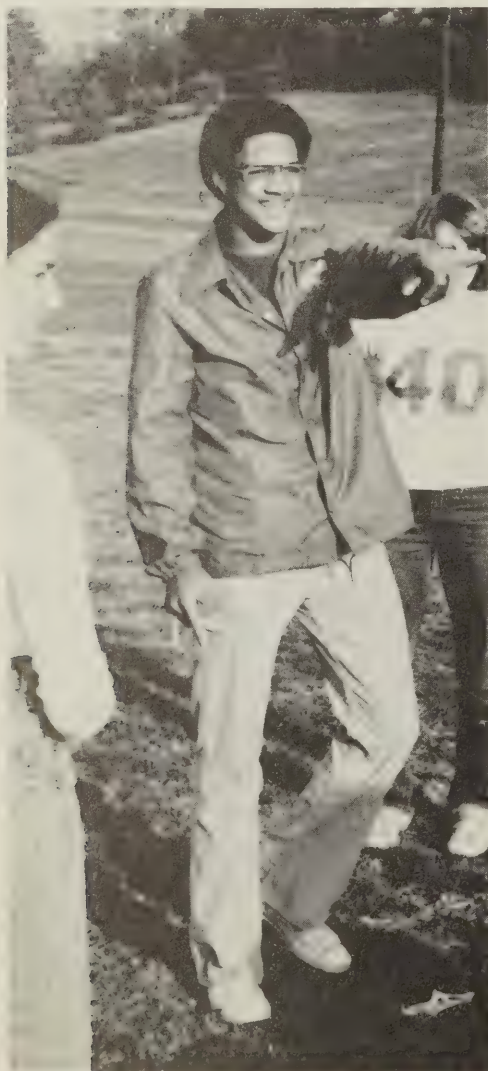

Sometimes coming to help out the annual staff, Andy White spends The Finest Hours leafing through yearbooks to see past students.

These Three Sophomores do not seem confident during a crucial stage in the game which the Sophomores went on to win 14-0.

The defense yells, You Can't Take It With You as Jimmy Brent roars to inspire the offense during senior Powder Puff Practice.

The victorious Sophomore bench produces The Last Hurrah as the clock ticks down to the closing minutes.

Some of the senior girls at Lee High turn into the Wild Angels as they buckle down to play a hard game of football.

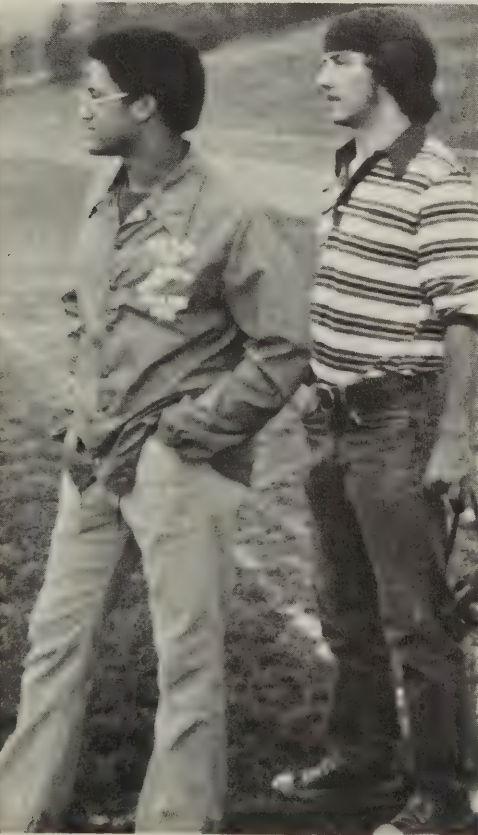

Perhaps Jimmy Brent is gazing on a rabbit's foot and makes One Wish Too Many since the Seniors are doomed to defeat!

Sophomores Defeat Seniors In Annual Powder Puff Game

Senior and Sophomore girls came face to face as they fought for the heralded position of best girls football team in the school. The week prior to the game was filled with competitive feelings between the girls and many were decked out in suits and ties the day of the big match. Seniors bravely fought with all their might, the Sophomores over came them with a score of 14-0. Maybe next year, Seniors!

The play is again mumbled down the line By Word Of Mouth as players make sure they will be in the correct position.

At The Last Moment of the game, Kim Swecker exhibits the look of the agony of defeat as victory slips through the Seniors' fingers.

Senior Coaches Chris McCauley and Mark Mays stand tall for The Duel In the Sun of their football squad.

Star Wars was on as Sophomores and Seniors battled for the position of the number one Powder Puff football team.

By the expressions on Scott Agnor's and Gloria Lucas' face, it is evident that the couple is clearly of The Marrying Kind.

What would a bridal party be without Girls, Girls, Girls, such as Desi Agnor, Brenda Kirby, and Cathy Desper.

Sealing their marriage vow with a kiss, Scott and Gloria prove to the congregation that they are truly Made For Each Other.

Each Junior who has been selected to be a Member of the Wedding feels honored at the chance to dress up and become photographed.

As Mrs. Woods slices the wedding cake, she feels Young At Heart as do all the guests at the wedding reception.

Young and Innocent Groom Scott Agnor and Bride Gloria Lucas adhere to tradition as they exchange wedding cake.

While these happy participants smile obligingly for an old fashioned picture the photographer catches the true essence of A Wedding.

Lucas and Agnor Unite in Mock Wedding

Joined in matrimony were Gloria Lucas and Scott Agnor during the annual Mock Wedding. The wedding was carefully planned and performed by the Home Economics Dept. led by Mrs. Dorothy Wood. Acting as minister to marry the couple was Mrs. Poe. The bride was given away by her "father" Mike Hanger, as mother of the bride, Mrs. Lucas, looked on. The three bridesmaids, Brenda Kirby, Cathy Desper, and Desi Agnor, complemented the wedding in their long, satin dresses. Serving as ushers were Peter Reid, Randy See, and Mark Robertson. Members of the wedding party, along with other students, attended the reception following the ceremony. Cake, cookies, and punch were enjoyed by all.

Assemblies Spice Up Our School Life

This year's assembly programs encompassed a wide variety of entertainment from rock bands to drama sketches. Free Fare, a band touring Virginia, gave one of the first assemblies. It was discovered that several of the Lee students including Matt Sterrett and Wendy Shircliff had acting talent when they performed their version of Star Wars. The band also played several popular songs and had a few other skits. The Pep Rally for Homecoming was one of the best assemblies. All the cheerleaders helped coach the guys so they were ready to pep the students spirits up. Seniors and Juniors tied for first place and the Stage Band also played. Next some drama students from JMU came to Lee and showed several short parts of some of the better known plays. They then pointed out different acting techniques. One of the last assemblies was a piano playing comedian named Rev. Lange. He would improvise to fit any situation and even make songs out of phone numbers. All in all this year's assemblies were very entertaining.

The piano playing comedian will Play It Again, Sam as he picks out a complicated tune on the piano with one finger.

A member of the Free Fare band obviously thinks that to Sing Your Worries Away is the best way to solve problems.

Sitting on a bench as though being Barefoot In The Park is a normal sight on the Lee Stage, two JMU drama students converse.

With a metal cap on his Head, Matt Sterrett grins and whistles like R2D2 for his part in Lee's Star Wars.

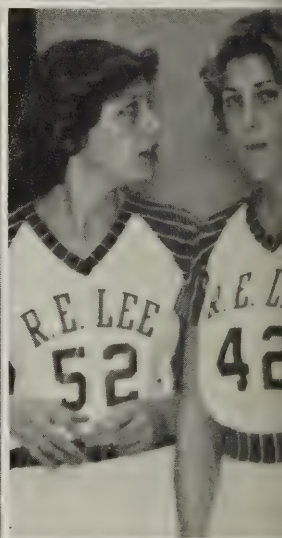

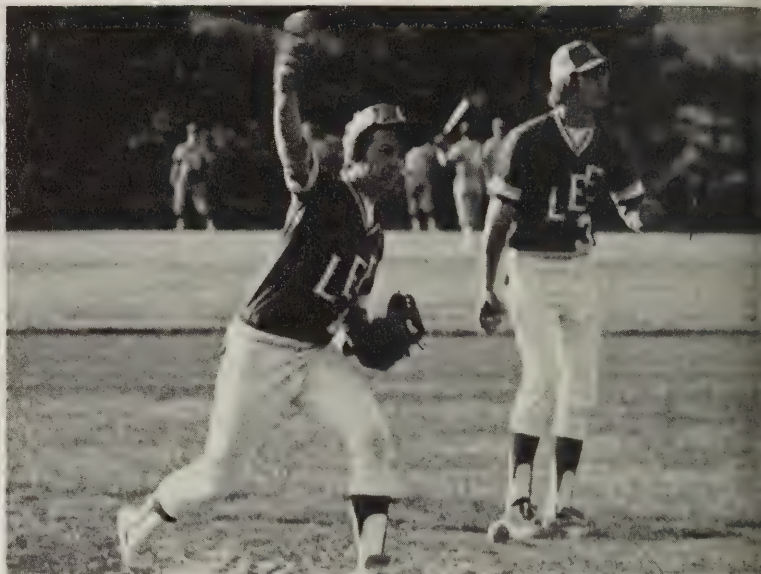

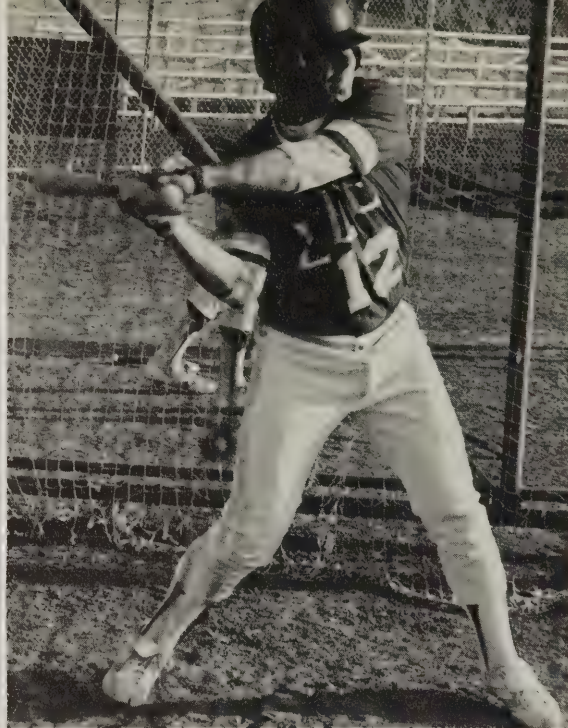

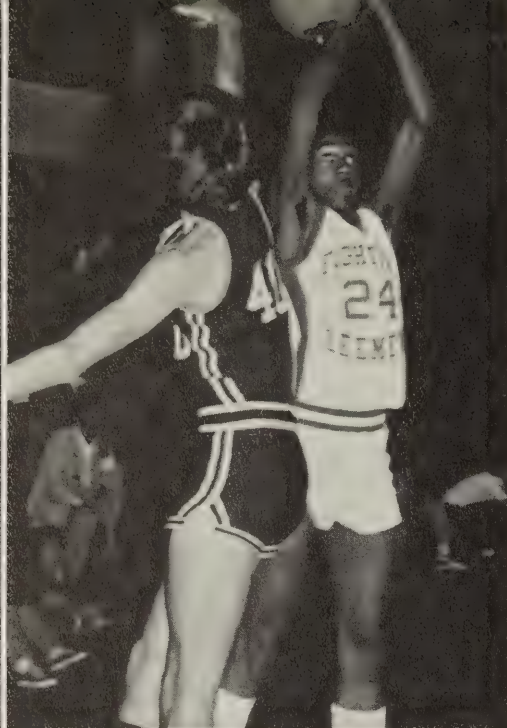

Disguised with a wig and a skirt, Tim Deitz attempts to, in a manner of speaking, try Dancing Co-ed in the pep rally.

Giving a surprised glance, one JMU student tries to Guess Who's Coming To Dinner? during a drama sketch.

Dance Little Lady — one of the sophomore "guys" cheerleaders struts across the stage while trying to stir up some school spirit.

Dressed in their togas and looking like Laughter In Paradise, Mike O'Hare and Chip Harvill cheer for school spirit.

WINNING

It seems that people were right when they told Barbara Fox, Allison McIntyre, and Sharon Kurtz "These are The Happiest Days Of Your Life."

Funny Lady Mary Ellen Mizzi eyes one of the spectators as he in turn watches her cheer rather than watch the game.

Junior Varsity Cheerleaders Add To School Spirit

During J.V. football and basketball, and girls basketball, the shouts and chants of the J.V. Cheerleaders could be heard throughout the crowds. Led by advisor Jo Meeks, sophomore and juniors Cindy Hancock, Lynne Fowler, Lisa Capelette, Allison McIntyre, Sharon Kurtz, Mary Ellen Mizzi, and Barbara Fox practiced long hours to perform before the sports spectators. Unique from the Varsity Cheerleaders, these girls must pay for their entire uniform and provide their own transportation to the games. But it doesn't seem to bother them, as they are always happy and smiling while doing the double chore or entertaining the crowd and leading the players to victory by use of clever and enthusiastic cheers.

The Junior Varsity cheerleaders shout The Truth to the crowd about how Lee High will go right to the top and be the victor.

Spectators watch The Main Attraction of the basketball game as the cheerleaders end with an interesting formation.

Considering all the work required of a cheerleader, everyone should give A Big Hand For The Little Lady, Cindy Hancock.

The agile cheerleaders climb on top of each other and form a complex Jungle Jim during the halftime of a game.

For sophomore Lynne Fowler, Nothing But The Best will do as she smiles and puts her all into each of the cheers.

As entertainment for the Homecoming assembly, the J.V.'s say to themselves, "Let's Dance to the tune of country jigs".

Lee High talent stands shoulder to shoulder as they form a Glory Alley on the basketball court.

In the Heat Of the Night the bench is tense with expectation as they wait for the game to begin.

Lee Ladies Climb In District As Top Contender

After completing a long season, the Lee Ladies walked away with a 16-9 record, 9-3 in the district. This year's Varsity Girl's Basketball season went a full twenty games and five tournament games. The coach for this year's team was again Toni Roby. A strong feeling of hers was that to win, you must have the desire along with the ability.

This proved so true especially in the away game with Harrisonburg when the Lee Ladies just won with a final score of 28-27. Many returning Seniors played with confidence and experience but did not fill the team, as the rest were pulled from Seniors to Freshmen. Three captains were chosen this year; Sandy Durette, Joyce Witherspoon, and Beth Wood. They led a team of fifteen girls in warm-ups and team spirit. Spirit was not lacking on the bench either. Many times, the five girls out on the floor could hear their enthusiastic teammates and coach. There was even a crowd at some of the games, which shows the rise of women's sports. The Lee Ladies only lost three district games, twice to the Knights of Turner Ashby and once to the Gobblers of Broadway. In District Tournament play, Lee overcame the Lexington Hurricanes and the Harrisonburg Blue Streaks, but again lost to T.A. In Regional Tournament, the Lee Ladies won against Warren County and later to Culpepper. Lee possessed two top scorers, Joyce Witherspoon and Sandy Durette.

With a confident stance, Tampa Brown checks The Way Ahead before setting up the next offensive play.

At the foul line, The Quiet One, Sandy Durette takes a long deep breath before she shoots for the point.

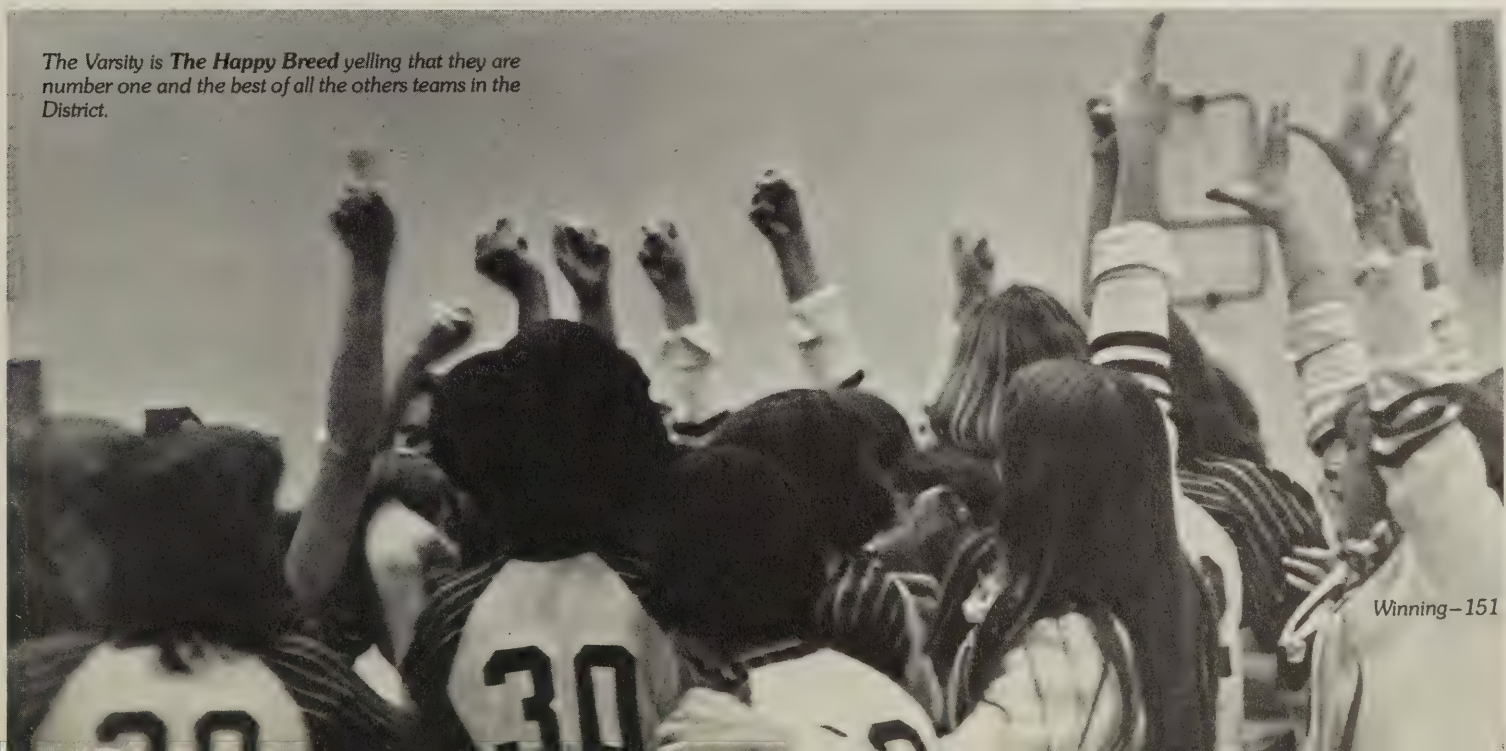

The basketball court takes on the appearance of a Speedway as the players whiz out onto the court to do warm-ups.

Leader in the Shoot Out, Senior Joyce Witherspoon shows an example of her consistent scoring jump shot.

The Varsity is The Happy Breed yelling that they are number one and the best of all the others teams in the District.

A determined Waynesboro team is not a match for Tampa Brown who says, "You Can't Take It With You."

Lee's Coach Roby tells her team to Count Your Blessings since the opposing team almost took the lead on the last play.

Watching for the ball to come down, these Innocent Bystanders wait impatiently to attain the ball and become part of the action.

Lee High player Sandy Durette realizes that the ball is going Every Which Way But Loose as she tries to steal it.

Toni Roby Receives Top Award

Many top awards were given to the winning Lee Ladies' Team as their two year coach, Toni Roby, received the highest honor given to any coach. She was given the Staunton Leader's "Coach of the Year" award. Many players were recognized for their ability at the Fall Awards Banquet. The "Most Improved Player" went to freshman Holly Cope while Tampa Brown was named "Most Valuable Player for Tournament". All three captains for this year received a trophy. Beth Wood was honored by receiving the Best Defensive Player Award, while Sandy Durette was given the Best Rebounder Award. Named as both Best Offensive Player and Most Valuable Player was Joyce Witherspoon.

Cheerleaders Sherry Miller, Jackie Bradely, Tammy Marshall, and Lisa Mills shout out cheers filled with Great Expectations for the game.

At the beginning of a Mighty Leemen football game, Anne Mullins yells out Greetings to the spirited Lee High fans.

With the cheering crowds surrounding her, Sherry Miller says to herself, "Maybe I'll Cry Tomorrow, but tonight I'll just prop up my ankle and rest."

With looks of real excitement and joy, Lee's Little Women cheerleaders do a great job of peppering up the spectators.

After some Foul Play is discovered by the referees, Betty Rath leads the other cheerleaders in a foot-stompin, hand-clappin cheer.

The Group, consisting of Lisa Mills, Anne Mullins, Tammy Marshall, Sherry Miller, and Betty Rath stop in a deserted hall to smile for the camera.

Cheerleaders Give Support To Players

Lee High's Varsity Cheerleaders did a great job of pepping up the students and team players for games. The girls began the year by practicing during the summer months to prepare for fall football games then ended the year by selecting the Varsity Cheerleaders for the 1979-1980 school year. Early in the year, the cheerleaders performed along with the J.V. Cheerleaders and did an interesting dance and pom-pom routine to a popular song and included some cute disco moves which the students thoroughly enjoyed.

As spirited crowds look on, the Varsity Cheerleaders yell out songs of victory for the Champion basketball team.

Eyeing the camera with a mischievous look and grin, Julia Folkes seems to be having a simply Smashing Time before the game begins.

During the basketball game's halftime, Tammy Marshall and Betty Rath Escape and rest before going out to charge up students and players again.

With fans preparing to leave, the cheerleaders remain in order to hear the final Good News of victory and congratulate the players.

Prior to the kickoff of a football game, Eighteen And Anxious Kim Swecker dances to a disco song with pom-poms at hand.

Varsity cheerleaders Breakout and do a routine which is definitely a hit with the cheering crowd in the stands.

The Varsity cheerleaders of '79 obviously have shown A Touch of Class as their year of cheering draws to an end.

Anne Mullins has a look of Sweet Honesty on her face as she smiles during a well needed break from cheering.

Hip Hip Hooray yells Betty Rath as she cheers the Leemen on to victory during one of the Varsity basketball games.

Jackie Bradley does her part in the Varsity cheerleading squad and appears as a Splendor In The Grass.

School Spirit Ignited By Eight Senior Girls

The '79 cheerleading squad included Kim Swecker, Betty Rath, Jackie Bradley, Ann Mullins, Lisa Mills, Sherry Miller, and Tammy Marshall. They added an extra touch to the games and faithfully led the fans in cheers. They supported the football, basketball, wrestling, and girls basketball team as well as the cross-country team. Jo Meeks advised the girls and was always around to see that everything went smoothly. The girls attended a National Cheerleaders Association summer cheerleading clinic at Randolph-Macon College this past summer. They were there for four days and won several ribbons for excellency, while learning new chants, cheers and routines.

They played a definite part in the Homecoming pep rally, coaching the senior boys and performing their own skit. They had a very successful year and wish the best of luck to the upcoming cheerleaders.

"What a Way To Go," Lisa Mill's face seems to say as she cheers the Leemen on to another well deserved victory.

The cheerleaders' faces show that they think that to Let the Good Times Roll is a good way to be.

Ain't She Sweet, Kim Swecker's bright smile proves her school spirit as she watches the Leemen play.

This football game seems to have tamed The Wild Bunch as Robert Geisen, Jeff Forinash, and Carrington Hamilton gaze at the game's action.

The Leemen are so excited and filled with the spirit of competition that Heaven Can Wait until the battle is finished.

As living proof of his motto, Run Wild, Run Free, Greg Smith clamps the Lee pigskin against his side for a touchdown.

As both teams prepared for the Lee High Punt, the thought that this may be The Longest Yard to run occupies each player's thought.

As the opposing team loses the coin toss, Their First Mistake of many is made and the Leemen are destined for an outstanding victory.

Runningback Fred Jordan receives the ball from Tony Randolph as he strives to Reach For Glory at the goal line.

Young Team Letters 7 Freshmen and 17 Sophs

This year's season was demanding on the young Lee High football team as they ended it with a 3-7 record. The record does not indicate the true play of these fine players. They played against three undefeated opponents and kept with them closely. The biggest win was against the tough squad of Covington. It was won in the final minutes of the last quarter as Lee pulled it out 28-23. There were many tough district opponents also this year, but the Harrisonburg Blue Streaks were the toughest, who later won this year's Regionals. This year's Head Coach was again Deke Summers, who led last year's team to the Region II Championship. He was helped this year by Coach Carter, Coach Quinlivan, and Coach Tetley. Even with all these men the task of coaching two teams was great. There were too many players and not enough coaches. Although this year's team did not come away with a winning season, they show a great promise for the future.

By the rather unpleasant expression on David Kinkad's face he seems to be saying, "If Life's A Bowl Of Cherries, What Am I Doing In The Pits?"

Rescue Squadsmen make certain that all their equipment is intact and are on the lookout for injuries which to them is All In A Night's Work.

As opposing team members fail to catch Greg Smith, he signals to the crowd in the stands that "I Walk The Line".

Lee High's Team Loses Many To Graduation

Many Seniors were lost last year due to graduation and for this reason, the football team was lacking in experience. There was an equal balance of good men on both the offensive and defensive teams. Outstanding men on the offensive team were Seniors Greg Smith, Chris McCauley, David Kinkead, and Mike Botkin, plus Sophomores Stanley Crenshaw and Randy Rolon. Quarterback Tony Randolph broke two records this season – the single game passing record and also went 1000 yds. in his Sophomore year. The defensive team occupied such men as Seniors Robert Woods and Elwood Fisher, and Juniors Brad Kurtz, Scott Downs, and Russell Maddox. Junior Fred Jordan filled the position of punter for the Lee team. Although this year's team lacked depth in experience, they were dedicated and enthusiastic. Be on the lookout for great things in the coming year!

Drill Team & Majorettes Are Up-to-Date

Both the Majorettes and the Drill Team kept up with the times and used the disco beat and steps in many of their routines.

Dressed like a member of the Cabaret, head majorette Sabrina Wimer leads the routines at one of the football games.

Head Majorette Sabrina Wimer lead her squad throughout the season as did the Rifle Squad Leader Rhonda Snyder. These two performing groups along with the Drill Team went with the band to Newton and gave a small show there.

With the band encircling the Drill Team and Colorguard, The Late Show featuring these groups is another success.

These girls of the Drill Team could easily audition for a dance spot on a Show Boat with their many talents combined in a routine.

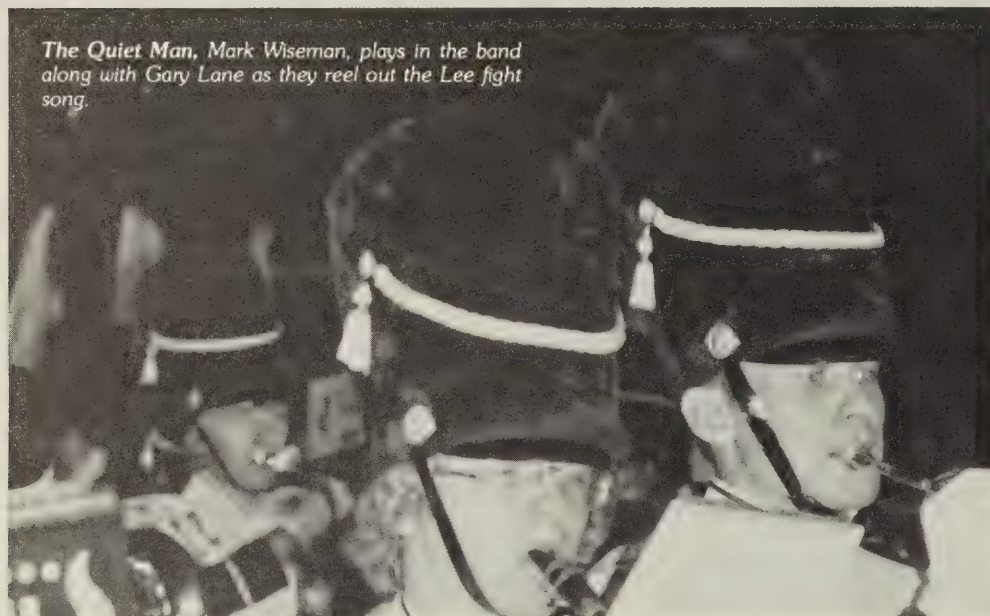

This show with the Lee High Marching Band, Drill Team, and Majorettes demonstrates that It Happened One Night at a fall football game.

At Friday night football games these girls on the Drill Team and Majorette Squad would put on a show worthy of Chorus Line.

The Greatest Show On Earth – these four girls form the colorguard at one of the Lee High football games.

The Lee High drummers play their Drums Of The Deep South to keep rhythm in the Marching Band.

Toot, Whistle, Plunk, and Boom Goes the Lee Band

The Lee High Marching Band started the year off by learning a new type of marching called corps style. The band paraded their new techniques in the Harrisonburg and Staunton Christmas Parades and in the Spring Mardi-Gras Parade also. The Symphonic Band competed in an annual Festival and earned an excellent score of three superiors or three one's. The Marching Band rounded off the year with a trip after a big citrus fruit sale, bake sales, and car washes. The band went to Newton, N.J. and spent a day in New York City and performed in a concert with the Newton Band. Later, the N.J. Band visited Staunton and took tours of Luray Caverns and Monticello. All in all, the band had an excellent season, with much of the success due to the efforts of Drum majors Jimmy Brent and Karen Collins and Mr. Sanger.

The Lee High Marching Band braves the early morning cold and drowsiness to practice for the half-time shows and provide Melody Time to onlookers.

A Song Is Born as drum major Karen Collins gives the band the signal to begin to play during a football intermission.

The Marching Leemen, known better as Sgt. Sanger's Lonely Hearts Club Band, performs at yet another half-time show.

NJ-Va. Band Exchange Is A Great Success

The band had a very successful trip this year. Our band left near the end of April for Newton, NJ. While there, the members of both bands attended a dance, gave a concert, and even went swimming. New York City is a short distance from Newton so our band spent one day seeing some of the sights of NYC including the World Towers, The Statue of Liberty, and of course Saks 5th Ave. As this was an exchange program, the Newton Band then visited us in March where we held a disco and they spent a day sight-seeing around Staunton. To top the year off the band banquet was held. The special senior awards were received with the Louis Armstrong Award being presented Brian Martin, Rusty Campbell receiving the Jazz Award, and Tammy Richie achieving the John Phillip Sousa Award. Tim Summers was named the Outstanding Senior Band member. Russell Mehrtens was the Outstanding Junior and Mike Viglione the Outstanding Sophomore. The seniors were also recognized along with the chaperones that participated on the Newton trip.

Being told to Call Her Mom in Va. is just another sign of the true Southern hospitality the New Jersey visitors experience.

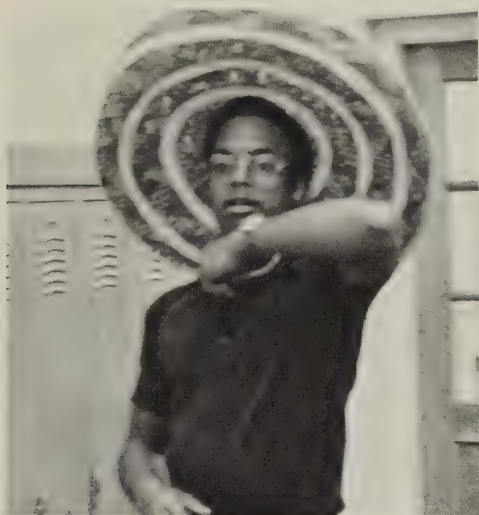

People thought Mr. and Mrs. Sanger were Courtin' Disaster by taking over 100 students and chaperones to NJ but they lived to tell the tale.

Any of these chaperones on the exchange program were A Friend In Need when any help was needed on the trip.

When Jimmy Brent is told to Guess Who's Coming To Dinner? the expression on his face shows his surprise at the Band banquet.

Dressed like Speedy Gonzales in a Mexican sombrero Jimmy Brent practices to be in top form for leading the band on the field.

The Light Touch of Suzanne Link and Mrs. Shirley Eppard is seen in the many and varied routines of the Drill Team and Majorettes.

Homecoming Cheerleaders Pep Up The Lee Auditorium

The Week before the annual Homecoming game and dance, Lee students get involved in many varied activities. Spirit week included a crazy hat day, a clash day, a 50's day and a Blue and White day. On hat day there was everything from what looked like a bird's nest to safari hats. For 50's day the students dressed up and turned out as hoods and bobby soxers. On the day of the big game a Pep Rally was held in which the Stage Band played a few selections and the JV and Varsity cheerleaders acted out a couple of skits. These included a Hee-Haw skit and a special skit by the Varsity cheerleaders. In the boy cheerleading competition the juniors and seniors took the prize. A Homecoming Parade was held before the football game and the junior class was awarded first place in the float competition. The float had a huge 1980 class ring and alumni from Lee. The Fighting Leemen won the football game against Lexington by a score of 27-0. After the game a dance was hosted by the band Paradox.

Unlike The Hatfields and The McCoys these J.V. cheerleaders present an enjoyable atmosphere with their smiling faces.

With feet and hands flying the Varsity cheerleader tells A Whale of A Tale which has the audience enraptured.

Taking advantage of a country theme, the cheerleaders present a skit, telling the students to Git to that Homecoming game.

Sophomores prance across the stage encouraging one another to Follow Me, Boys, which has the audience yelling for more.

What's this? No it's not The Rocky Horror Picture Show but seven junior guys cheering their way to a first place rating in the pep rally.

Shades of Calamity Jane appear on the stage in the person of Mrs. Hickey who is definitely in the spirit of things.

Straight out of a scene from Animal House Seniors drive the watching crowd wild during the Homecoming spirit week.

When the sophomores Matt Harvill and Cindy Hancock found that the Homecoming court included them they looked as if they had found Heaven On Earth.

The Lucky Lady, Homecoming Queen Susan Clatterbaugh smiles through her tears while standing beside her grinning escort, Bob Sowers.

The juniors thought they knew what Life At The Top was like when the junior float received first prize.

The Thrill Of It All is what Scott Herron and Beth Haas seem to feel as they dance close together at the Homecoming dance.

It seemed like Magic to Carole Barker, escorted by Mitch Hamilton, when she was selected to represent the junior class in the Homecoming court.

Lee High students are obviously Born to Dance which is one good reason the Lee dances are always well attended.

The Student Prince, Joey Humphreys, escort to Sarah Ritchie, was chosen as the junior representative in the Homecoming court.

Homecoming this year started off with a roar in the afternoon Pep Rally featuring the boy cheerleaders. The classes competed to see which one had the best fighting Leemen spirit in yelling contests with the famous "Icky, Dicky, Doo Wah!" The junior cheerleaders later turned this chant around and "Wah Doo, Dicky Icky" was the result. The juniors and seniors tied for first place in the guy's cheerleading competition — the juniors danced to the tune of "Flashlight" and the seniors mimicked the brothers of Animal House with their togas and sexy legs. Mrs. Hickey joined the JV cheerleaders in a knee-slappin' skit with plenty of country humor. The Varsity cheerleaders crazy antics received much response from the student audience. Lee creamed Lexington with a score of 27-0. Fred Jordan scored 12 points and Chris McCauley and Jeff Samples made up the remaining points. The Homecoming Queen was Susan Clatterbaugh escorted by Bob Sowers. The other Senior Class Representatives were Betty Rath, escorted by Todd Fowler and Julia Folkes escorted by Chip Harvill. Juniors Carole Barker and Joey Humphreys and sophomores Cindy Hancock and Matt Harvill made up the rest of the Homecoming Court. Others were juniors Mitch Hamilton, Carmen Reid, Scott Garza, and Sarah Ritchie. Also included were sophomores David Lott, Rachel Walker, Bobby Myers and Lynn Fowler. The marching band put on a spectacular show during half-time using the melodies "Swingin' on a Star", "Froggie Went a Courtin'" and Elvis Presley's "My Way". Paradox played for a sizeable crowd after the game.

All the Young Men on the Lee wrestling team take time out from a hectic season to pose with their coaches.

Sorey Goes To Blind Olympics.

The Lee High Wrestlers did an outstanding job this year in seasonal and district play. Although the team also suffered several losses, the team was supported by many excellent wrestlers. Richard Sorey, a District Champion and 5th in Regionals, went to competition in the Blind Olympics. Steve Cope, also a District Champion, was 3rd in Regionals and 7th in State. Other outstanding wrestlers included Mokey Wilson, Brad Kurtz, Steve Smith, Jay Robinson, and Rob Wright, who all placed 3rd in the District under their specific weight class. Led by Coaches Ed Quinlivan and Ron Cartwright, the boys traveled all over the state and competed not only against public schools, but several private schools as well.

Mokey Wilson seems to be telling his opponent that Once Upon a Time, he may have had a chance, but now Mokey has it.

Just As You Like It, Greg Smith shows good form consistently as he stretches up and aims right on target.

The crowd yells for Clifford Waddy to Hang Em High as he goes high in the air to stuff the ball in the hoop.

The crowd is standing on their feet yelling, "Let's Do It Again," as the Leemen score another two points in the match up.

Psyched up for the game the starting lineup becomes a Magnum Force with which to be reckoned as the crowd goes wild.

Going up against the Cave Spring's team Mike Mad-den is met Face To Face with a barricade of bodies.

Not even an outstretched hand from the defense can stop Leeman Mike Madden who is Bound For Glory.

As Charlie Jones aims for his next shot, it's only A Matter of Time until the ball is released and the Leemen score once again.

Looking at the complete Leemen bench, both the crowd and the coaches have Great Expectations for the coming season.

Reaching into his Pocket Full of Miracles, Chip Harvill aims and fires the ball during pre-game warm-ups.

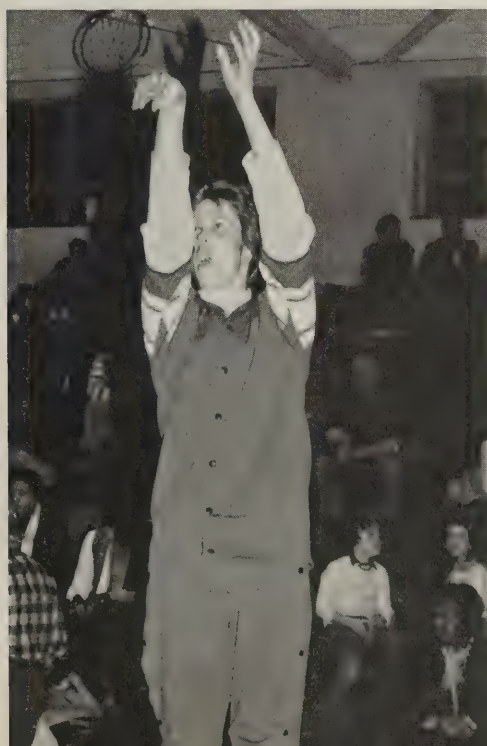

Hatcher Leads Leemen Through Another Season

Once again, the Leemen varsity basketball players proved themselves to be a top-rated team for the Valley District. Coach Paul Hatcher led the team through a good season overall, as they ended with a 17-7 record. Even the few losses they had were very close, as the Leemen put forth top performance for every game.

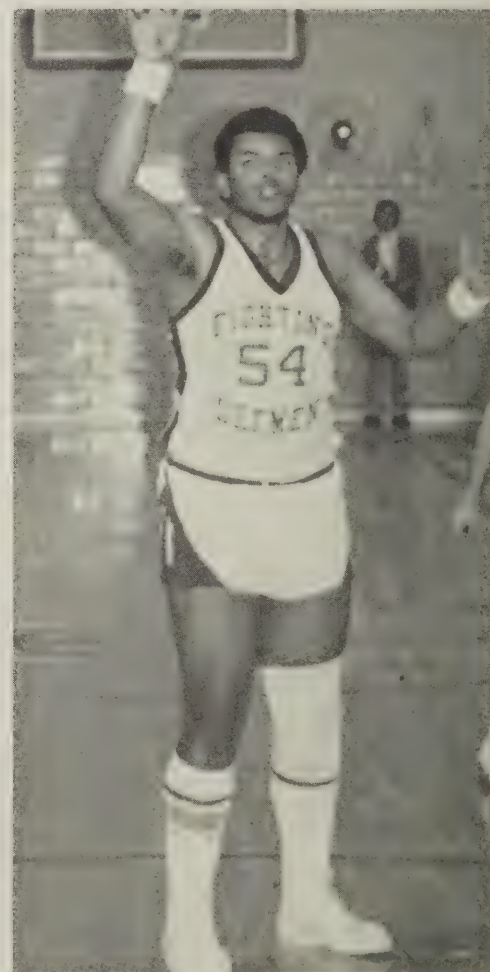

In the start of the season they defeated their opponents in nine out of the ten games. Towards the middle of the schedule several unexpected injuries and illnesses made a difficult situation for the team, and Coach Hatcher was forced to try new combinations of players. This could account for the losses in this critical time of the season. But when the games got tough, the Leemen got tougher!

Over the heads of Western Albemarle, Tommy White reminds one of The Towering Inferno; hot and unstoppable.

To Have and Have Not — Terence Jones stretches his fingertips as he attempts to rebound the Leemen's ball.

Vaulting into mid-air, Tommy White finds Room At The Top in an effort to give Lee a much needed two points.

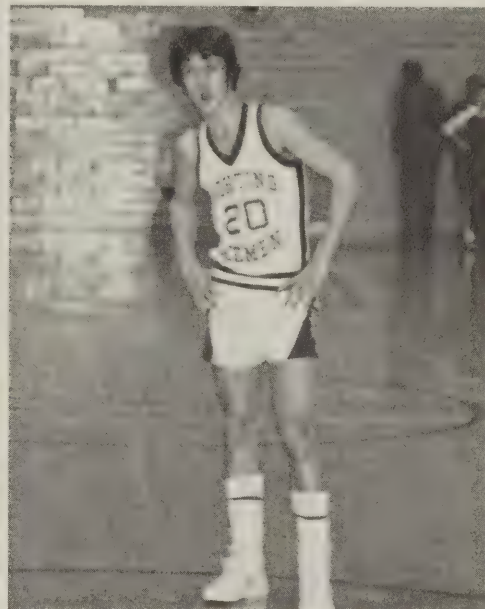

Daddy Long Legs Mike Madden will long be remembered as a living legend in athletics at Robert E. Lee High School.

In a One On One contest Tommy White certainly can't be beat by this opponent as he jumps high and aims the ball for two.

Breathless Senior Chip Harvill pauses for a few brief moments of rest before he must perform at the foul line.

On the bench, Charlie Jones cannot control his enthusiasm as he raises his F.I.S.T. shouting encouragement to his teammates.

R.E. Lee High Conquers W.A., Cave Springs

Lee High's superior ability and teamwork were clearly evident at two particularly outstanding games. The Leemen walked off with victories at Western Albemarle and at home against Cave Springs. This excellence carried over to both confrontations with rival, Harrisonburg High. Loyal Lee supporters stood in colossal lines for over 45 minutes just to get into these games. Although the Leemen fell to the Streaks twice in regular season play, the fans were never disappointed with Lee's performance. These nights proved to be the most challenging for the Leemen, with Blue Streak Ralph Sampson dominating both the offense and defense. Despite the 7' 3" center, the Leemen managed to hold their own and produced a solid effort. Leading the mighty Leemen in offensive play were seniors Mike Madden and Mike O'Hare.

The Heroes of Lee High accept a well-deserved trophy for second place in the Regional Tournament at JMU.

The crowd at the Harrisonburg-Lee High game turns into The Wild Bunch as spirit runs rampant and the bleachers seem to roar.

Thrusting a ball that seems to be Too Hot To Handle, Mike O'Hare prepares to drive in for a two point gain.

The Quiet Man, Coach Hatcher, receives an award from Jim Ridings of the Booster Club for his 200th victory as a Lee High Coach.

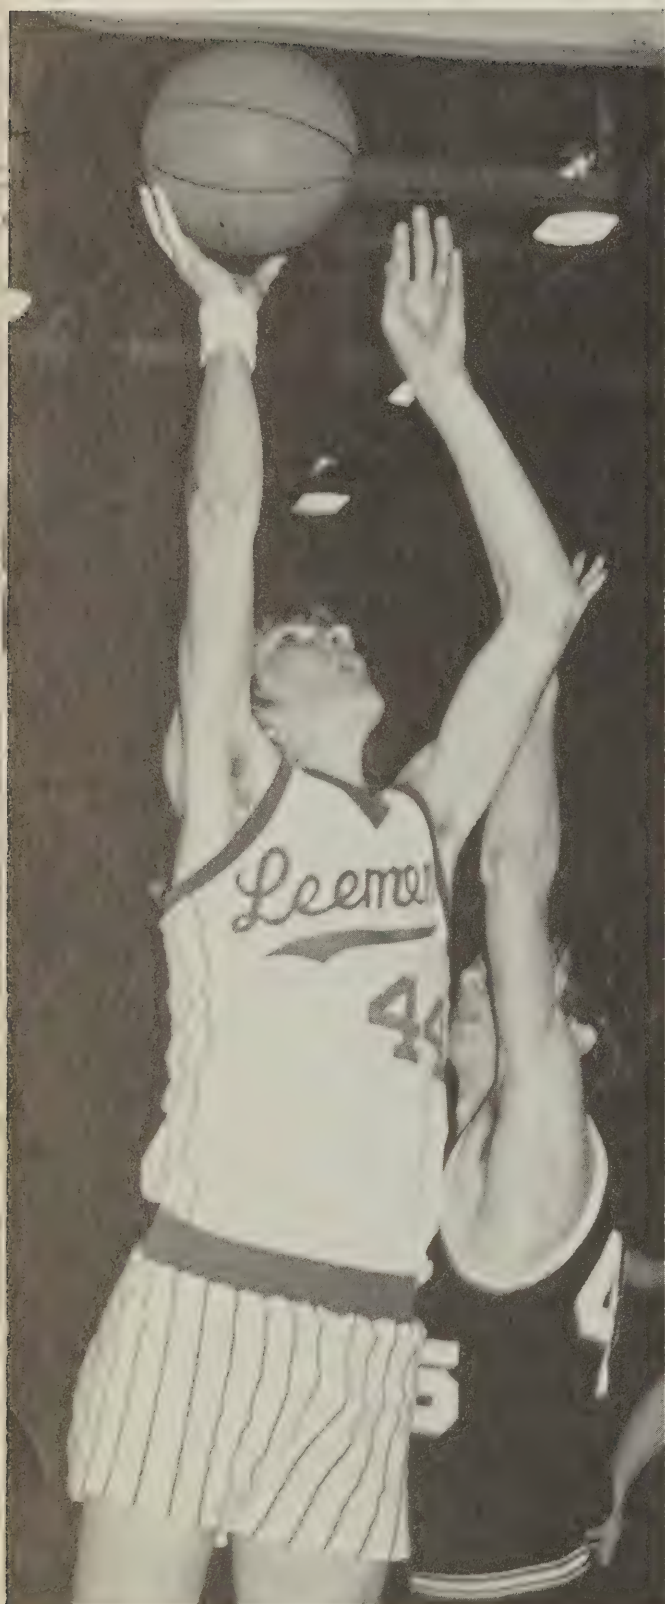

Mike Madden Leaves His Mark At Lee

The Valley District and Regional tournaments climaxed a thrilling and memorable 1978-79 basketball season. Again the Leemen displayed excellence in competition. For the tenth straight year, the Leemen made it through the District games to the Regionals. At times, they may not have played as well as we knew they could, but they got it together when it was necessary. The tournament game with Loudoun County was intense but satisfying when an energized Lee team overcame a nineteen point deficit to gain a berth to the semi-finals of the Regionals. Two records were broken this year as Mike Madden completed his basketball career at Lee. Mike recovered 921 rebounds against many tough opponents including a 7' 3" center. He was also named all-time scorer for the Valley district with a total of 1763 points. Faithful Lee students supported the team throughout the season. They were proud of the effort apparently put forth by each player. Even at times when the players were slacking off, the enthusiasm of the crowd brought them back to life.

Flying through the air, like Superman, Bobby Myers stretches up and tries to draw a foul for a three-point play.

No one wants to miss the intense excitement of The Sell Out between Harrisonburg Blue Streaks and the Fighting Leemen.

It's time out in a close game as Coach Cochran intently gives his J.V. team some final words of wisdom, "Remember This Above All . . ."

Double Trouble lurks under the basket in the form of the opponent and Lee High's Bobby Myers.

J.V. Basketball Plays Best During Harrisonburg Game

Ending another well played season, the Lee High J.V. basketball team turned in a 15-4 record. Led by Coach Cochran, the J.V. team over-rode many tough competitors such as the Harrisonburg Blue Streaks in which they won with a score of 62-37. The position of captain this year was shared by two guys, Sophomores Matt Harvill and Robert Peyton. During the season the team played as one and with this type of teamwork their success was so great. The toughest competitor the team had to play was the strong squad of Cave Springs while in the district both Waynesboro and Turner Ashby gave Lee a "run for their money". Being such a well performed year the team as well as the fans thought it was an enjoyable season.

The J.V. team reveals many talented players including Matt Harvill, who will Cast A Giant Shadow on the court with his techniques.

The Happening — The next moment will decide who can get the rebound, a Knight or Leeman Don Hicklin.

As several of the games begin to get rowdy, Tom Casson merely uses his Instinct for Survival to hang in there.

Don Hicklin adds The Finishing Touch as he puts the ball through the hoop to score two points towards a Leemen victory.

Midwinter's '79— well attended and a success

The Midwinters dance of 1979 was a tremendous success for everyone involved. While the ten piece band, Standing Room Only, had a little trouble finding the Armory, once they got there everything went fine. The students danced and rocked to their favorite tunes such as the Theme Song "Too Much Heaven." The dance was held in the Thomas D. Howie Memorial Armory on March 16 and was enjoyed by all.

Another sport was added to the Lee High schedule this year. Organized volleyball was headed by P.E. teacher Sharon Metcalfe. It was new to all the members that composed the team but not to the former Madison College player Ms. Metcalfe. Three members were nominated to the All District team. They were Karen Collins, Karen Losh and Terisa Wimer. Only Karen Losh received this high honor. Her great accomplishment was serving 81 points. There was also a J.V. team which did very well.

Lee Runners Achieve High Honors

Leemen took an active part in running events and did well in all of their events. The Cross Country ended their season fourth in the state, which is the best that Lee runners have done in past years. Coach Don Roberts guided the ten Leemen over the exhausting courses, located at the new Y.M.C.A. grounds. Lee won the Eastern Mennonite Invitational by capturing three of the top four places, a very grand accomplishment. Leading the team were Mark Lloyd, Mr. Cross Country, Jon Kelafant, Most Valuable Player, and Tim Summers, Most Consistent Runner.

The Lee High Indoor Track Team finished third in the District and fourth in the Regionals. Coaching this year's team was the hard working Bill Walton. Chris McCauley led the District with a time of 7.7 in the 55 meter hurdles, while Fred Jordan held the school record of 6' 4" in the high jump. Both of these teams did an excellent job and should be commended for their fine representation for Lee High.

So Proudly We Hail! The Cross Country team has the look of winners and enthusiasm as they get ready to compete.

The tired and drained Mark Lloyd heads The Great Race as he goes around one of the bends in the difficult Cross Country course.

Evaluating himself on the earlier part of the race Mark Lloyd seems pleased with his performance but is glad that he is on The Road Back.

Golfers Swing And Putt Their Way To Victory

The 1979 Golf team was one of the best teams ever at Lee High. Coached by N. L. Deaver, the golfers practiced everyday in Gypsy Hill Park. Veteran team members included Brian Martin and Brent Frank, the two top players, and Kelly Fitzgerald, Tim Summers, Bill Wray, Jay Cooke, David VanLear, Greg Bowles, Jim Nicholas, and Robbie Vest. The team made consistently low scores, and came to be a major competitor in the area. The golfers for each match were determined before the actual game in a qualifying match which chose the top eight players who were to golf in that match. This in-team competition clearly made the sport very enjoyable, with numerous incentives to work towards.

The Hero Brent Frank swings high, hits the ball, and spins around just in time to see it hitting the exact point he wished for.

Hillmon And Cope Lead During Season

A new sport was added to this year's schedule. Instructed by coach Toni Roby, the softball team placed close to the top. The sport was basically new to all the players in that it was fast pitch instead of the usual slow pitched game. Many exceptional players evolved from this year's team, such as homerun hitter Tonya Hillmon, and pitcher Holly Cope. Catcher Susan Sweet was named to the All District team for her outstanding abilities.

Picked to be at the bottom of the list the Lee Ladies show that there is always Room At the Top if you are willing to work.

K. Berry and T. Caywood Prove Their Pitching Power

The Lee High Varsity Baseball team sported a host of fine players in 1979. Coach Warren Tetley, with the help of JMU student teacher Jim Woodson, successfully took over the position from 1978 Coach Jim Goodloe. Veterans Eddie Mullenax, Keith Berry, Chris Early, Steve Byrd, and Scott Desper joined with other new players at practice each day after school to work on pitching, hitting, and defense. The games were held at Staunton Memorial Stadium. Headed by captains Keith Berry and Eddie Mullenax, the team beat Lexington and Fort Defiance early in the season with outstanding performances. An outstanding hitting performance was turned in by both Scott Desper (.390) and Eddie Mullenax (.375). The Junior Varsity team was checked by Gary Gazenski and hosted players from the sophomore class and the junior high schools.

Rushing to get a better look, catcher Don Hicklin and the umpire call the hit Foul Play so that it must be taken over.

Girls Place Third in Overall Season

As usual, Coach Pat McCool returned to the 1979 tennis season with another great team. Five veterans, Elizabeth Dey, Liz Altizer, Lynne McDonough, Valerie Pandak, and Lynn Fowler took the top five positions. With their experience, these girls led the team through a good season. Filling the remaining spots were Juniors Nancy Dod, Karen Hamrick, Sophomore Sarah Bell, and Freshmen Ann Elder and Maria Sechrist. Although most of these players were inexperienced as far as tournament play, new to the pressures of matches, they showed much potential with which a solid team could be built. Their excellent ability was revealed early in the season by the Lee Ladies' 7-2 victory over Ft. Defiance in a scrimmage. At times bad weather hindered practice for upcoming matches, but the girls always put forth their best effort and showed superior sportsmanship.

As Lynn Fowler serves to an unsuspecting opponent, An Ace in the Hole was nothing new to this winner of the Most Improved Player award.

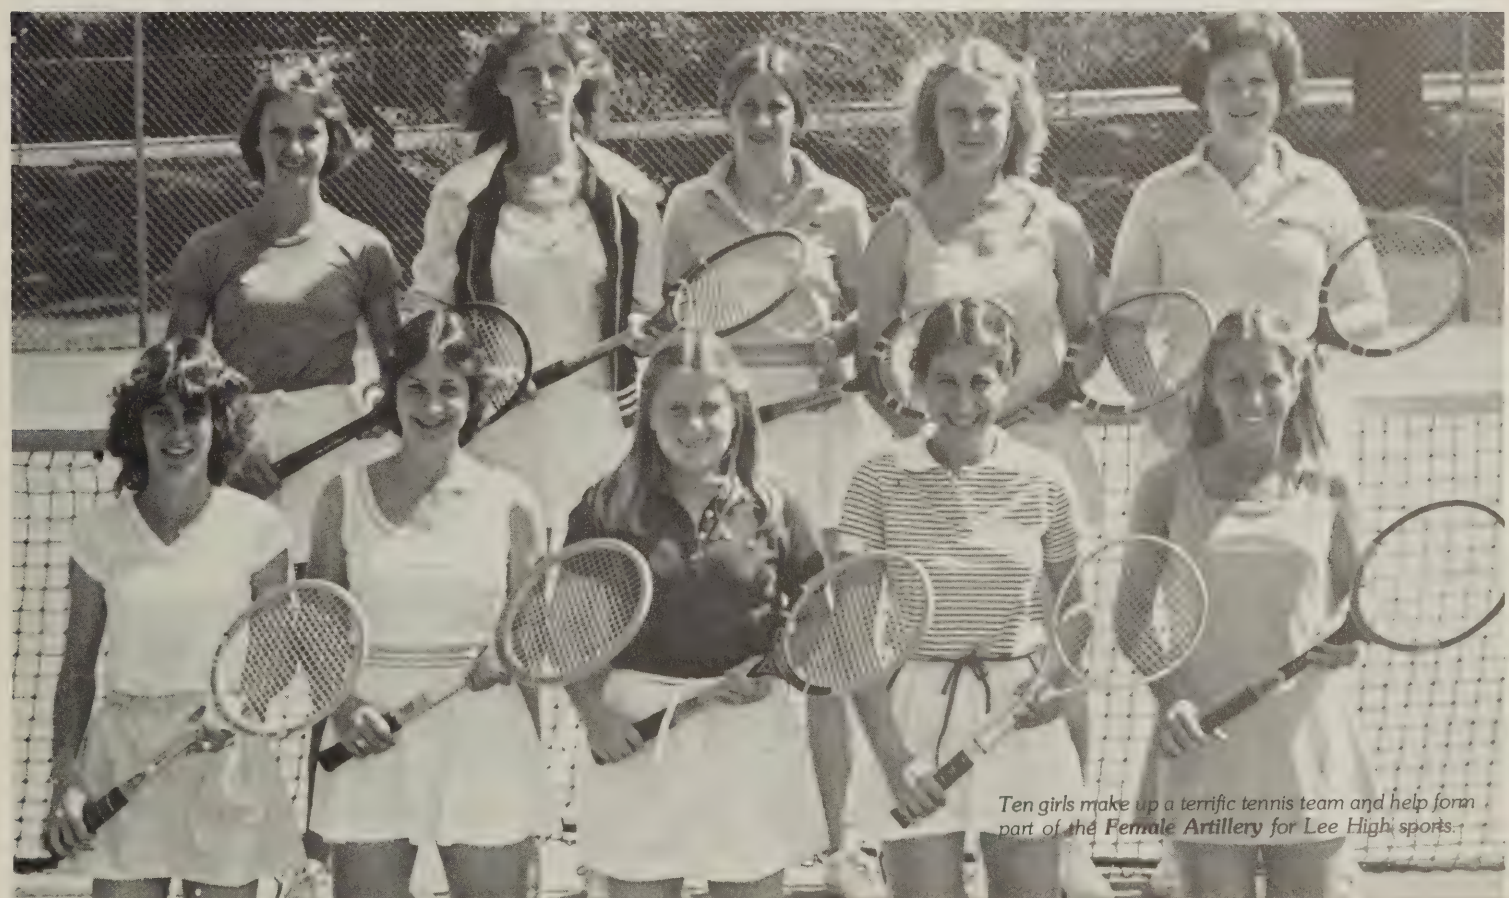

It's Always Fair Weather when Lee's top player Elizabeth Dey, sets out to win her match and gain another victory for the Lee Ladies.

Liz Altizer holds back a smile of approval when she defeats a number two player with the excellent score of Six-Love.

The Hour of Truth arrives for Lynne McDonough and anxiety builds as she plays her last match of the season.

Ten girls make up a terrific tennis team and help form part of the Female Artillery for Lee High sports.

The Spoilers Chris Grover, Steve Altizer, and Mike O'Hare will dampen any school's chances of winning during a match.

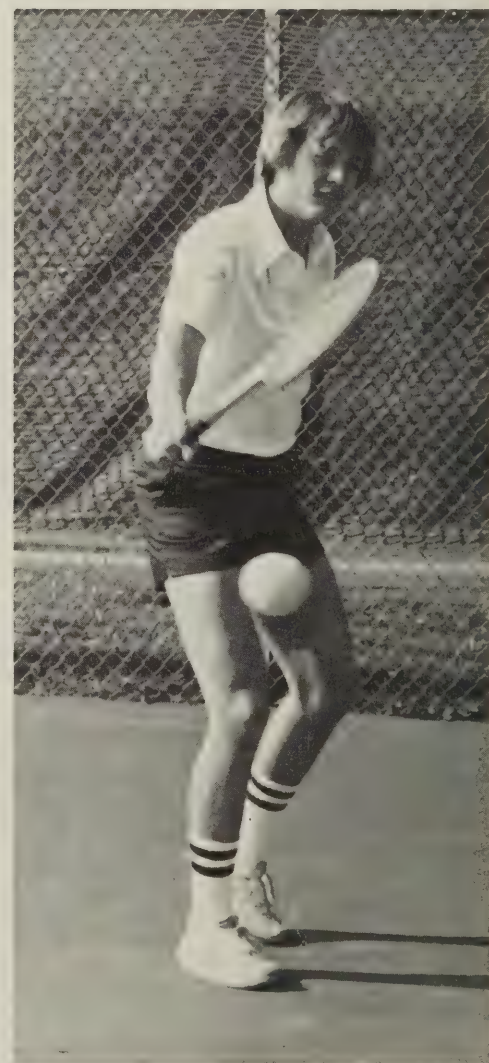

Lee Veterans Strengthen Varsity Team

Lee's boys tennis team this year consisted of 13 excellent players. Seven were returning lettermen and the other six were new to the team. Together the boys had the power to serve, smash, and volley their way to the top. Leading the team with his lightning serve was senior and 3-year letterman Steve Altizer. Senior Mike O'Hare and his far-reaching ground strokes came in a close second and helped push the team to victory. Under the supervision of Coach Wimer, the Leemen tennis team proved to their opponents that ability, practice, and sportsmanship brought a winning season.

Keeping his opponent's score at Love, Paul Lightener eyes the ball closely and prepares to smash it back over the net.

Concentrating on his backhand shot, The Champ Steve Altizer returns a powerful volley to his opponent.

Anyone who dares play Mike O'Hare certainly has a Brief Encounter with him, as Mike will quickly out-play his competition.

As this sophomore slams the tennis ball to his opponent, he knows that Any Second Now, he will gain that much needed point to win the match.

None But The Brave Will play the tough Lee High tennis squad; their excellent playing ability startles even the strongest competitors.

Track Team record 4-2, best year yet

As Jo Meeks put it "this has been my most successful track season with four wins and only two losses." There were three home meets and three away. The team placed third in Districts behind Harrisonburg and Western Albemarle.

As she soars through the air Donna Johnson feels both The Agony And The Ecstasy as she eases over the high jump bar.

The Busy Body Jo Meeks looks around in frustration as she tries to round up the members of the track team for a pep talk.

With the discus soaring from her hand like a Flying Saucer, Tessie Ralston throws for first place.

When Martha Mace sprints with the baton to Carol Barker, she begins her leg of The Great Race or the mile relay.

The Lee Girl's Track Team smiles as they gather their turtles and show what High Society is all about.

Revealing their lovely smiles, this Gruesome Twosome, Karen Collins and Tonya Ridings show their true personalities.

Beating the competition by a large margin Debbie Johnson sees The Way Ahead as the finish to a good race.

Receiving the baton from Karen Collins, Twanda Robinson sets out to win as she sees her Goal!!! ahead.

Flying through the air, Karen Collins seems to be discovering The Truth About Spring as she competes in the long jump.

As the stopwatch goes ... tick ... tick ... tick Patricia Cason runs her best two-mile race for another first place.

Preparing to fly over hurdles and give her opponents stiff competition, Beth Richmond proves her name of The Fast and the Furious.

Telling herself that it's always harder The Second Time Around, Beth Wood talks herself into gaining speed around the track.

Before beginning her jump Natalie Mace decides to Hop, Look, and Listen to see if she can place for Lee.

Mile Relay Record Broken 4:22

Three school records were broken this season. Debbie Jordan broke the 220 record with a time of 26.8. The mile relay record was broken twice, the first time by Beth Ann Wood, Martha Mace, Carole Barker, and Debbie Jordan and the second time with Terisa Wimer running the second leg. The final time was 4:22. Carole Barker broke the 110 low hurdles record with a time of 16:7. Tessie Ralston and Kerri Tinsley placed regularly in the discus while Jackie Whedbee and Marilyn Ohlinger scored in the shot put. Hurdlers included Beth Richmond, Carole Barker, Beth Wood, and Becky Gilbert. Donna Johnson ran the 2 mile and competed in the high jump. The 440 relay included Susan Summers, Twanda Robinson, Donna Johnson, and either Carole Barker or Marilyn Ohlinger. Karen Collins was a long jumper and she also ran the 220. The distance runners were coached by Paul Expresso.

Terisa Wimer was the top 880 runner and others included Michelle Burnett and Tonya Ridings. The mile runners were Connie Crawford, Pat Sellers, Tonya Ridings, Patricia Cason and Terisa Wimer. Patricia Cason was also the strong runner in the 2 mile along with Pat Sellers and Connie Crawford. Other sprinters included Jennifer Coiner, Jackie Crawford, and freshman Susan Summers.

Ask Any Girl who once had a track coach at Lee is and the girl about it Susan Hanger.

Unlike the girl's track team, this turtle did not originate at Lee, many people at the meet said It Came From Beneath the Sea.

Looking like a modern day Pollyanna, Marilyn Ohlinger takes a break and gets moral support from her turtle at a track competition.

After spinning around in the circle it is surprising that junior Kerri Tinsley is not having an attack of Vertigo as she hurls the discus.

Hustle And Bustle Is Name Of Game In Track

Lee High hosted an impressive group of runners for the Boy's Track team. Distance runners included Tom Wolters, Mark Loyd, and Freddy Fitzgerald, all of whom were coached by Paul Expresso. Sprinters, coached by Bill Walton, included Greg Smith, in the 100 and 220 yard dashes, Robert Woods, in the 440 and 220 runs, and Steve Argenbrite and Jay Robinson excelling in the 440 race. The mile relay, which was set at 4:22 minutes, was run by Greg Smith, Robert Woods, Steve Argenbrite, and Chris McCauley. Chris also sailed over hurdles with Terrence Jones, Fred Jordan, and Jay Robinson. Other Leemen included pole vaulters David Showalter and Charlie Saunders, with Fred Jordan excelling in the high jump at 6'6". Chris McCauley set the 330 hurdles record at 39.8 seconds.

Speed Demons Chris McCauley and Terrence Jones jump hurdle after hurdle for extra team points and possibly a new record.

Coach Cochran and a TA coach await a Decision Of Time that is needed in order for a long distance runner to pace himself.

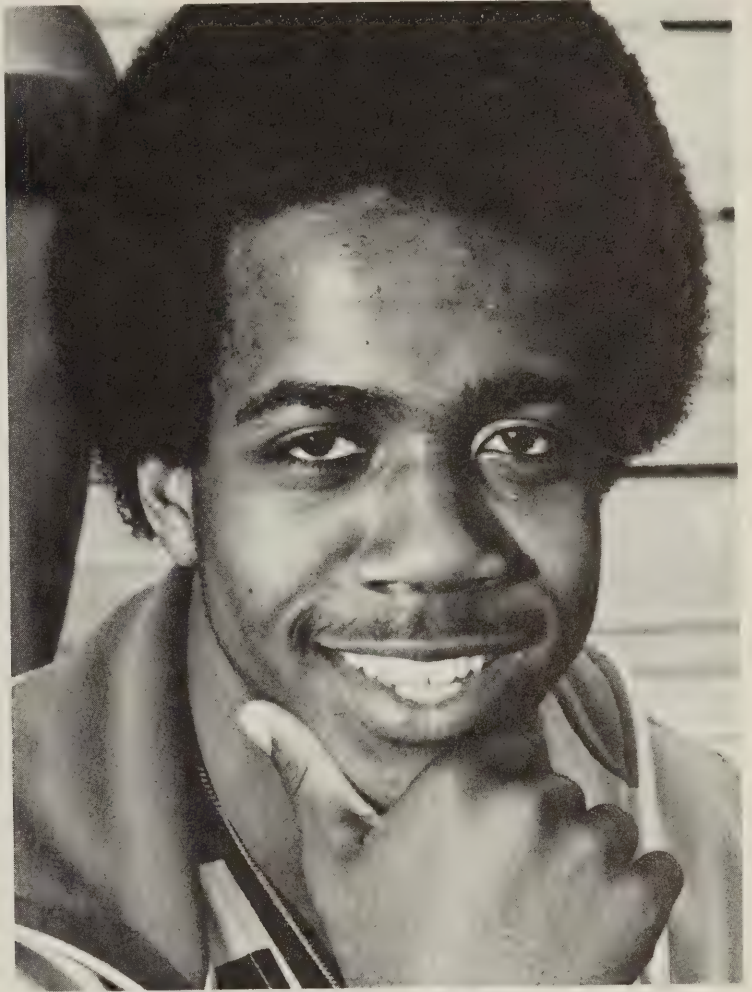

In a sprint against tight competition at Hamisnburg, The Immortal Greg Smith takes the lead as the finish lines nears.

Though the track team is not Child's Play for anyone, Robert Woods and Steve Argenbrite seem to enjoy the company of a cuddly team turtle.

As this jumper sails over the high bar, he thinks of Safety Last, as clearing the bar and winning the competition are first in his mind.

In between track events, Eddie Harris, Man of A Thousand Faces, takes times out to grin for the camera.

Track coaches Bill Walton and Paul Expresso prepare to take A Walk In The Sun to correct a tracker's problem.

Spectators watch Terence Jones Run Silent, Run, Deep as he races towards the finish line in a meet against Harrisonburg.

To the onwatchers at Turner Ashby, Greg Smith is nicknamed Merlin the Magic Mouse for his size but not for his jumping ability.

It is Zero Hour for Fred Jordan as he goes high in the air to cross the height of 6'6" to set a new school record.

"Run, Run Sweet Road Runner," a fan yells as Fred Fitzgerald leads the two-mile pack during a Harrisonburg meet.

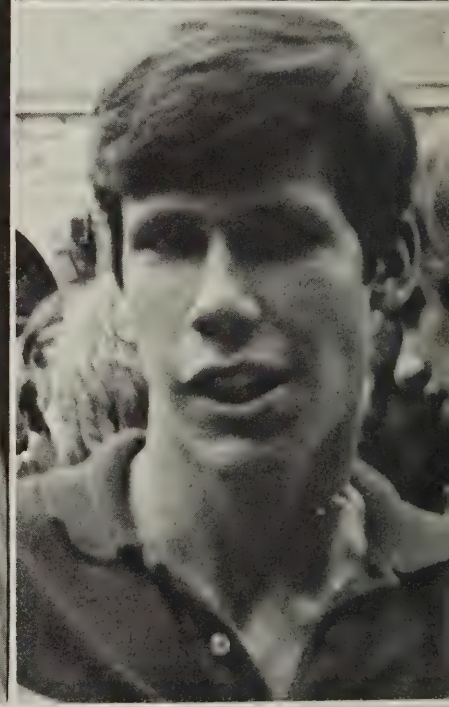

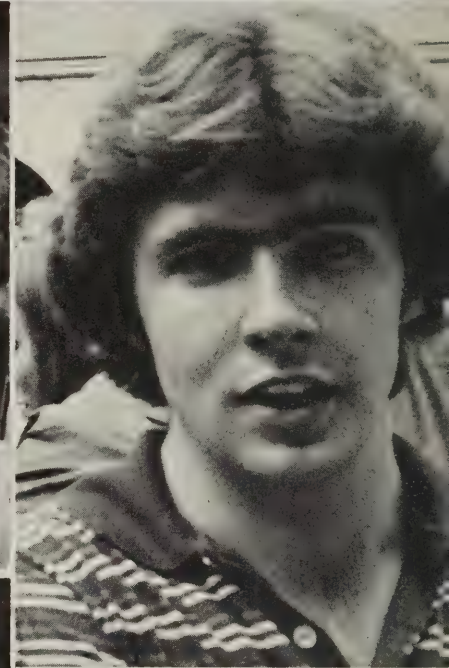

Setting a new school record at the District meet in the high hurdles, Chris McCauley is one of the three Speedy Gonzales shown.

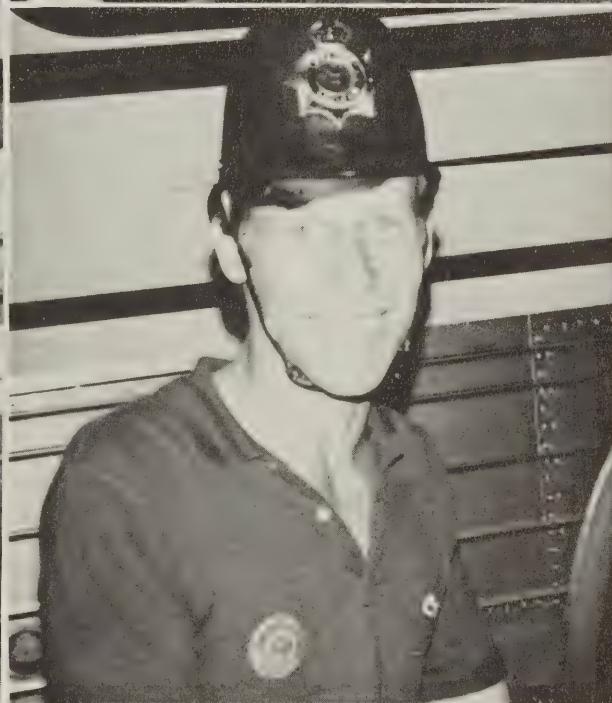

Angel Face, Steve Argenbright is caught at a tender moment during one of the track meets hugging the girl's team mascot.

Smith, Woods, And McCauley Receive MVR

Ending the season second in the district behind Western Albemarle was the outcome of this year's boy's track team. An outstanding job was given by every member of the squad. Head coach this year was again Joe Cochran. He trained the hurdlers and took care of all important matters. Coach Doug Carter showed the putters and discus men the art of their event. Demonstrating to the jumpers the correct form was Coach Bill Walton. Being the "tough little man" again this year was again long distance coach Paul Espresso. Senior runners, Chris McCauley, Greg Smith, and Robert Woods, were awarded the MVR—Most Valuable Runner's Award—at the Spring Sports Banquet. They in turn gave each coach an engraved mug for the time and effort they gave to the team to make it the best they possibly could.

The End

Recipients Of Awards Are Recognized

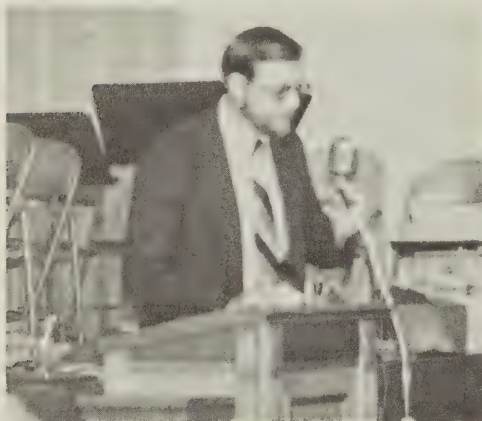

The Lee High Boosters' Club can be commended for the fine job of recognizing young talented athletes as well as their coaches because they gave three banquets for the teams and their supporting fans. The Fall Banquet honored boys' Varsity and J.V. football, girls' Varsity and J.V. basketball, and boys' cross country. The next banquet was held in the winter as they recognized members from the following squads — boys' Varsity and J.V. basketball, girls' and boys' indoor track, girls' Varsity and J.V. volleyball, and boys' wrestling. Girls' softball, girls' and boys' tennis, girls' and boys' track, boys' golf, and boys' Varsity and J.V. baseball attended the Spring Sports dinner. President of the Boosters' Club, James Ridings, along with his other officers and supporting parents and friends, put on three exceptional suppers which hundreds of athletes attended. Later everyone would move to the auditorium where trophies, letters and certificates were given out to the deserving members of each squad.

The Last Mile brings a close to the track season, which ends with a Spring Sports banquet hosted by Boosters' Club president, James Ridings.

As Karen Collins tells Jackie Whedbee and Beth Wood to Look For the Silver Lining in her green bean, the photographer catches them off guard.

There was obviously more than one Mr. Lucky at the Fall Sports banquet, when ten students received trophies for their accomplishments.

Lee baseball players received certificates for their outstanding ability this year in handling The Bat.

These Three Women, Lynn McDonough, Lynne Fowler, and Liz Altizer were in the spotlight when recognized for the tennis team.

Thinking about how the Spring Sports Banquet is nothing like Breakfast at Tiffany's, Kelly Fitzgerald has to laugh at Mike O'Hare's ideas.

There are many moments during the season for an athlete but one of The Greatest is getting a trophy, evident from golfer, Steve Cope's smile.

A glance at the coaches' table at the banquet catches Toni Roby and Joe Meeks laughing when Ms. Meeks says, "There's a Girl in My Soup!"

This will be A Night to Remember for Chris McCauley after being honored as one of the most valuable runners in track.

The Class Of '79 Is Mighty Fine Sr. Day And Sr. Picnic Big Success

As another class graduates from Robert E. Lee, the "Class of '79" was not different. Friday, June 1, was declared Senior Skip Day in which many students went to Sherando Lake or their own private parties. But another choice was added to the popular list of "hot spots" – Bushe Gardens. Two full bus loads of students as well as faculty members left Lee to catch the activities. Rides, shows, and concerts were given to the tremendous turnout. The next day was the annual Senior Picnic at Hoy's Farm. Many hungry students attended.

Alien?! No, just Karl Protill enjoying himself in the cool water at the Senior picnic on Hoy's Farm, June 2.

As Emily Morrison sits in the final assembly she will attend in '79 her Day Dreams take over as she plans for her future.

The cafeteria on Senior Day is like At the Circus for the popular show under the big top is the tables of desserts.

As Senior Advisor Becky Harvill jokes with the class of '79 during Senior Day, no one would ever know she could be nicknamed The Enforcer.

Could these mysterious men be Sherlock Holmes and Sherlock Jr. searching our award winning seniors on Sr. Day?

"Oh, God! Can graduation finally be here?" thinks Liz Olmstead as she waits in homeroom for the assembly to begin.

Lifeguard! Does David Biery have four lifeguards or does he need one quickly during the activities at Hoy's Farm?

The night of June 8th was very special and exciting for Lee High students. The Junior Class was luckily able to book the "Fat Ammons" band and prom-goers danced the night away to popular disco and rock tunes. The band also gave an excellent stage show which included music from the early beginnings of rock to modern day numbers. Though some found the heat unbearable inside, many couples retreated to the cool outside air to enjoy the starlit night. And for those who felt pangs of hunger during the evening, a whole array of fine foods catered by Viglione's Restaurant was readily available. The Prom decorations were beautiful too, and added a special touch to the former SMA Mess Hall. Flowers enlivened the entire scene and a fountain with live and kicking goldfish had even been constructed. In between the breaks of the band, the Senior Court was announced. The Prom Court was also presented, and Liz Olmsted and Steve Altizer were crowned Queen and King. Grayson Gilbert and Carole Barker were crowned Junior prince and princess.

Prom 1979, The Night of Nights brings many exciting and happy memories, including the crowning of Liz Olmsted and Steve Altizer.

Having just danced The Last Waltz, prom-goers Marshall Kirby, Betty Rath, Vickie Rhor, and Robert Kirby break a smile before leaving.

Let It Be said that the Prom court of 1979 was filled with deserving young girls and guys from each class.

Affair Of Honor – Being pronounced 1979 Prom King and Queen or Prince and Princess is a true honor for anyone.

“We’ve Got Tonight”

Even a Night At The Opera couldn't have been as thrilling as being chosen Prince and Princess, as were Grayson Gilbert and Carole Barker.

All Promgoers Share Many Classic Times

Although the Prom was one of the best ever, the yearbook staff had several unfortunate problems with pictures. At this point, we'd all like to thank Chip Harvill for allowing us to use those that he took. It is very evident by the happy faces of these people that the Prom was a super-special event for all those involved. A big hand goes to the Juniors for an excellent job – well done! The Decorations Committee, led by Allyson Wease did a terrific job and only good comments were made concerning the whole affair. All who attended will remember the night of June 8th as a major highlight of the school year.

Prom-goer Mike Hanger certainly looks happy as he dances with the Queen Of The Stardust Ballroom, Sharon Sibert.

During one of the first dances at Prom 1979, Boy Meets Girl on the floor of the beautifully decorated Mary Baldwin Activity Center.

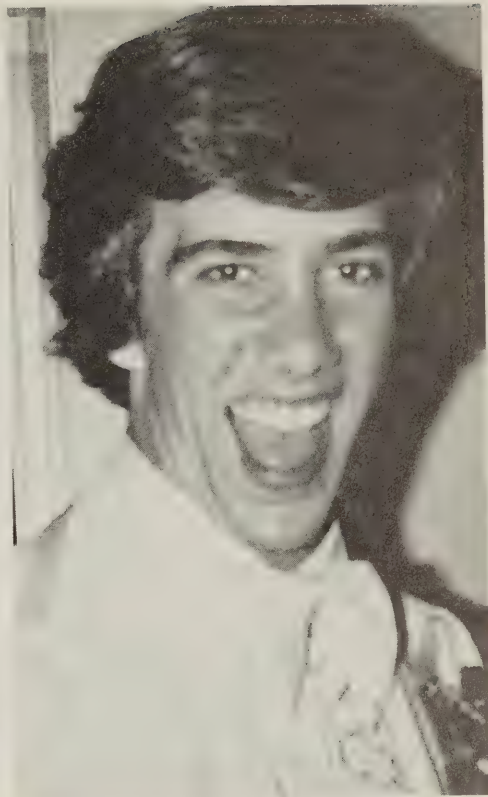

Seniors Chip Harvill and Wayne Harper seem to have a Strange Affection for cigars as they stop puffing for a second to smile.

Smiles and dancing eyes are on the faces of Karen Collins, Beth Wood, and Lisa Capellette as Wayne Harper seems to have That Way With Women.

An unknown picture-taker catches Tall, Dark, And Handsome Danny Spotts with a look of true happiness on his face.

Students and teachers alike enjoyed the Prom presented by the Juniors as these, who danced till The Other Side Of Midnight.

Maxima Cum Laude graduates Gwen Stephenson and Tammy Ritchie anticipate their approaching Graduation, A Night Of Nights.

Caught in a moment of surprise, John Rodgers hastily prepares for The Last Adventure of his senior year and high school life.

Awaiting the moment before the processional, Greg Smith, The Graduate, recalls fond memories of his high school years.

To-be graduates Mike Sweet, Mike Botkin, and Amy Kluge converse about how they, The Dream Makers, have finally made their goals come true.

Having yet to actually receive their diplomas, Mike Hanger and Wayne Harper know it is definitely Something To Shout About and celebrate early.

With a pensive look upon his face, Mitch Moore reflects about his fast approaching Sunday Encounter when he will receive his diploma.

Graduates Inspired By Rev. Moore's Message

During the last few weeks of school at Lee High, seniors anxiously awaited the all important Graduation day. Finally, June 10th had arrived. Prepared for the ceremony, graduates arrived all ready to proceed in their caps and gowns. Seniors were bright and chipper for the night's services and faces were filled with looks of excitement and a happy sort of sadness. A total of 333 seniors graduated which consisted of 50 Maxima Cum Laude graduates, 75 Cum Laude graduates, and 108 received regular diplomas. The Reverend Thomas Moore of Tampa, Florida gave the address to seniors and delivered a very inspiring message. Senior Class President Jan Andrews conducted the services and introduced Scott Herron and Martha Mace as they gave the Valedictory and Salutatory speeches respectively. At the close of the service, the Class of '79 flipped their tassels and automatically began celebrating their new independence.

FINE!

Booster Club President James L. Ridings presents The VIP's Scott Herron and Martha Mace with Valedictorian and Salutatorian awards.

As Kenneth Frank presents Scott Herron and John Manning with the Charles Fred Wanson, II award, they know that it is especially A Day To Remember.

As Alphonso Hamilton gives Pekka Holopainen his deservedly earned diploma, Pekka realizes that he will remember the moment From Here To Eternity.

Vice-Principal Alphonso Hamilton steps into some Footlight Glamour as he presents a diploma to some happy and honorable graduate.

Graduation night was truly a main event for seniors. Many awards were presented during the service, each for a separate cause. The Staunton Education Association, Grand Piano and Furniture Company, and Staunton Civic Club each gave scholarships to Martha Mace, Susan Fisher, and Mike Hanger respectively. The School Board Medal, based on the highest average in the 1979 class, was awarded to Scott Herron, while the Page Kable and the Joe Ast awards were awarded to Beth Ann Wood and Chris McCauley on the basis of character, academics and athletics. Scott Herron and John Manning received a memorable award entitled the Charles Fred Wonson, II Scholarship.

Having climbed another step of the Learning Tree, Gwen Stephenson warmly shakes hands with Delmar Botkin and receives her diploma.

The feeling of being a Champion fills the mind of Tim Summers as he accepts his hard earned diploma on June 10th.

THE END

Well, to all of Robert E. Lee, I hope you have and will enjoy this edition of Leeway for a long time. It's been a rather strange and hard year full of adjusting, learning, teaching, and with many ups and downs. But for the most part, the Leeway staff will remember the best times we've had, and to those special people, I'd like to single out and thank. Beth, I don't know what we would have done without all your hard work and cute jokes; for sure, the book wouldn't have turned out as well! You've just been the greatest. Cynthia – thanks for putting up with my nagging about assignments and working to meet deadlines. And the best of luck next year as the hailed Editor-In-Chief! Tonya, I know we've fought a long battle all year, but I think "we done good!" As the only other experienced staff member, thanks for all the ideas and reminders, they really helped a lot. And Renee, I only wish you could have started out helping during first semester – you're a great worker and a tremendous help. To Alonzo, Jim, and Mark, thanks so much only begins to say how much your work was appreciated! And finally, to Ms. Macomber, I'm really going to miss you . . . thanks for talking and listening to me, helping out with problems about annual or just anything! It was hard starting out so unknowing, but you've been great as an advisor and a friend all year. Good luck with future yearbook staffs, I know you all will do a fantastic job! And thanks to Karen Hamrick and to all of the others that have helped me and the rest of the staff this year. See ya at the movies!

Than's,
Em

The 1979 edition of Leeway is printed by the Delmar Printing Company in Charlotte, North Carolina. Mr. Bob Tavener is our company representative and it is he who takes all class pictures and helps the staff on important yearbook decisions. All of the movie titles shown in bold print have been obtained from various sources and date back to the beginning of movie-making.
